First-Class Roads.

By Laura Foreman, Staff Correspond-

Dublin, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—The people of Twiggs, Laurens and Emanuel counties are determined to be on the line of a splendid highway leading from Savannah to Macon, and on to Atlanta. At a great good roads rally held here today in the Laurens court house active steps were taken toward securing united effort on the part of the counties toward building a first-class road. Resolutions were passed enthusiastically indorsing The Constitution for its work in the interest of good roads in Georgia, and Hon. J. E. Burch, representative from Laurens, who presided at the meeting, was authorized to appoint an executive committee, consisting of one member each from Bibb, Twiggs, Laurens, Emanuel, Bulloch, Bryan and Chatham, to confer with the county authorities and secure immediate work on the Savannah to Macon road.

Meeting Well Attended.
The meeting was well attended, and was enthusiastic in the extreme. Judge Burch was put in the chair, and, after extending a cordial welcome to the visitors, called for addresses from the following:

County Attorney A. S. Bradley of Emanuel, former Representative Sam W. Yopp of Twiggs, Mayor Carey Shannon of Jeffersonville, Dr. H. W. Sears, County Attorney M. H. Blackshear of Laurens, Chairman William Kea of the Laurens county board and Lauren Foreman of The Constitution.

Comments The Constitution.
Colonel Bradley declared that Emanuel county is now fully in line with the good roads movement. He commended The Constitution for co-ordinating work among the counties, and pledged Emanuel county to meet Laurens in the good roads effort. He declared that, since securing the county in April, Emanuel has built 18 miles of good roads, and that it has been found that a team will now haul twice as heavy a load as before the improvement.

Mr. Yopp and Mayor Shannon told of the work being done in Twiggs, and both declared their county willing and anxious to do its part in the good roads movement. Twiggs has spent a large

CONSTITUTION'S CAMPAIGN
FOR GOOD ROADS IN GEORGIA
GIVEN HEARTY INDORSEMENT

Dublin, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—At the enthusiastic good roads meeting, held in Dublin today, the efforts of The Constitution for good roads in Georgia were heartily indorsed. The following resolution, introduced by J. M. Outler, a prominent merchant, was passed unanimously:

"Whereas, The Atlanta Constitution has taken the lead in the good roads movement in the state of Georgia by spending its money, sending its cars and men anywhere and everywhere they can do good, and

"Whereas, With its money and enterprise, it has arranged for a state-wide automobile and good roads contest by which thousands of farmers and rural districts will be benefited; and

"Whereas, This good roads movement, inaugurated by The Constitution, will add millions of dollars to the taxable property of Georgia, and save, to the farmers of the state, time, money and expense, and will bring prosperity, happiness and success to hundreds of isolated districts; therefore, be it

"Resolved, first, That we, the Laurens County Good Roads Club, in convention assembled, do thank The Constitution for its highly commendable work in having good roads made in this the Empire State of the South.

"Resolved, second, That we commend to each and every paper in Georgia the action of The Constitution in this good roads movement, knowing, as we do, that no great and good movement of any kind can be successfully carried to a conclusion without the aid of the daily and weekly papers of Georgia."

The following resolutions, introduced by J. M. Finn, cashier of the Dublin Banking Company, were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, In common with the people of other counties of Georgia, we, representing the people of Laurens, Twiggs, and Emanuel counties, are greatly alive to the urgent necessity of building better roads; and

"Whereas, The best results can only be obtained by the cooperation of the various counties, as urged by The Atlanta Constitution in line with its Georgia good roads automobile contest; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we heartily indorse The Constitution and other papers for their efforts in the interest of good roads in Georgia, and that we call upon the road authorities of our counties not only to build good roads, but to unite in an effort to build a road which shall be made the very best possible on the Savannah to Macon and Atlanta route."

PORT RATES TURNED DOWN,
THREE TO TWORailroad Commission Declines to Grant Petitions for Reduced Rates From Ports.BOARD'S FORMAL DECISION WILL BE ANNOUNCED TODAYChairman McLendon, Commissioners Hill and Stevens Voted Against Port Rates, and Commissioners Candler and Hillyer for Them, as Predicted by Constitution.There will be no "port rates" with the sanction of the railroad commission as at present constituted.

The commission yesterday denied the port rate petitions which have been under consideration the last three months by a vote of 3 to 2.

Chairman S. G. McLendon and Commissioners Warner Hill and O. B. Stevens voted against them, while Commissioners George Hillyer and C. M. Candler favored granting them.

The vote turned out precisely as The Constitution predicted more than a month ago, following the hearing at which the testimony bearing upon the cases in question was concluded.

The commission did not give out its decision, mainly for the reason that there were several statements to be prepared in connection with it, and the stenographers were kept busy upon these until a late hour at night.

Among these statements will be a minority report filed by Commissioners Candler and Hillyer, a statement by Chairman McLendon and another probably by Commissioner Hill and Commissioner Stevens.

Altogether, therefore, the decision and accompanying statements promise to be quite a lengthy document, which, however, will scarcely detract from its interest.

What the Petitions Were.

One of the petitions in connection with which the decision will be handed down today is that of the Beck & Gregg Hardware Company, asking a reduction in the rate on special iron products from Savannah and Brunswick to Atlanta, from 23 to 13 cents, the latter being the rate now prevailing in the opposite direction, from Atlanta to the ports.

In addition to the railroads, the Atlanta Steel Company also opposed this petition on the ground that the reduction asked, if granted, would practically force it out of business.

The other petition involved was that of the McCord-Stewart Company and other wholesale dealers, asking a reduction from 35 to 15 cents per 100 pounds on green coffee, carload lots, from Savannah and Brunswick to Atlanta.

The Savannah Chamber of Commerce, representing the commercial interests of that city, fought both petitions and had a representative before the railroad commission for that purpose.

Governor Smith, it will be recalled, wrote a letter to the commission urging that body to grant port rates.

It will also be recalled that the governor asked the commission to order the reduction of 5 cents per 100 pounds on cotton from interior points to the ports. The commission, however, took no action on this phase of the matter.

WINE CELLAR
WAS A MAGNET
TO MRS. GOULDArmy of Witnesses on Stand

Habits.ACTOR DUSTIN FARNUM
ONCE MORE MENTIONEDBell Boys Are Called to Tell
of Mrs. Gould's Relations With Farnum—Mrs. Gould Shrank Visibly While Some of the Evidence Was Being Given.

New York, June 17.—The spot light of the cross-examination today in the trial of Mrs. Howard Gould's suit for separation from the estate at Castle Gould to the St. Regis hotel, to the farm at Blue Gap, Va.; to the Niagara, the Goulds' yacht, and back to New York again, but except for those moments when it lingered on Dustin Farnum, it never got very far from the butler's keys to the wine cellar.

There was visible an attitude on the part of the defense, which in this trial of many surprises, has been curiously shifted over to what is virtually the prosecution, to prove that Mrs. Gould was not only so frequently under the influence of intoxicants as to fall within the rulings of Justice Dowling that she must be proved a habitual drunkard before her husband can be justified for leaving her, but to prove that, when she had been drinking, her character underwent a transformation for the worse.

Mrs. Gould Shrank Visibly.

Delaney Nicoll, formerly district attorney for the county of New York, and now counsel for the husband, was willing enough to adduce testimony that the wife was afeble when herself, if only he could bring her good nature into contrast with testimony that tended to show her violent, abusive, uncertain in her motives and confused in her actions at those moments when she was alleged to have been drinking.

There was no abatement of her ordeal today, and as the burden of iteration grew heavier, she shrank visibly, and a look of pain came into her eyes, as if though she might have read or seen such things, it was a new realization of them for her to hear them applied directly to herself, with the weight of a sworn oath behind them. At other times she smiled broadly, shook her head in an amused denial, and several times stared the witness out of countenance.

Only once was there a break in the procession of footmen, butlers, chauffeurs, maids, waiters and bell boys on whose testimony it is sought to prove that Mrs. Gould was an impossible wife, and that was when Mr. Nicoll called Melville E. Chapman, a broker, who was a guest of the Goulds on their yacht, the Niagara, during several cruises of the year 1905, and his narrative unfolded in the steps of others.

Mrs. Gould Undenably Drunk.

He had several times seen Mrs. Gould undenably drunk, he testified, and, led by Mr. Nicoll, he described several alleged outbreaks, with emphasis, on the overbearing manner of the wife and the efforts of the husband soothe and conciliate her.

In the effort to discredit this witness, Mr. Shearn drew the ugly word "blackmail" from Mr. Nicoll, and became so much agitated at its application to his own conduct of the case that for some moments he was unable to continue his cross-examination. The court ruled the use of the word offensive and Mr. Nicoll apologized for introducing it.

The crowds of the curious at the doors of the court room continue to swell, and, as Mr. Shearn has announced that he will call fifty or more witnesses to refute the testimony of the defense, it is probable that the case will continue for another week or ten days. To shorten it as much as possible, Justice Dowling is holding court until 6 o'clock daily until 4, the usual hour of adjournment.

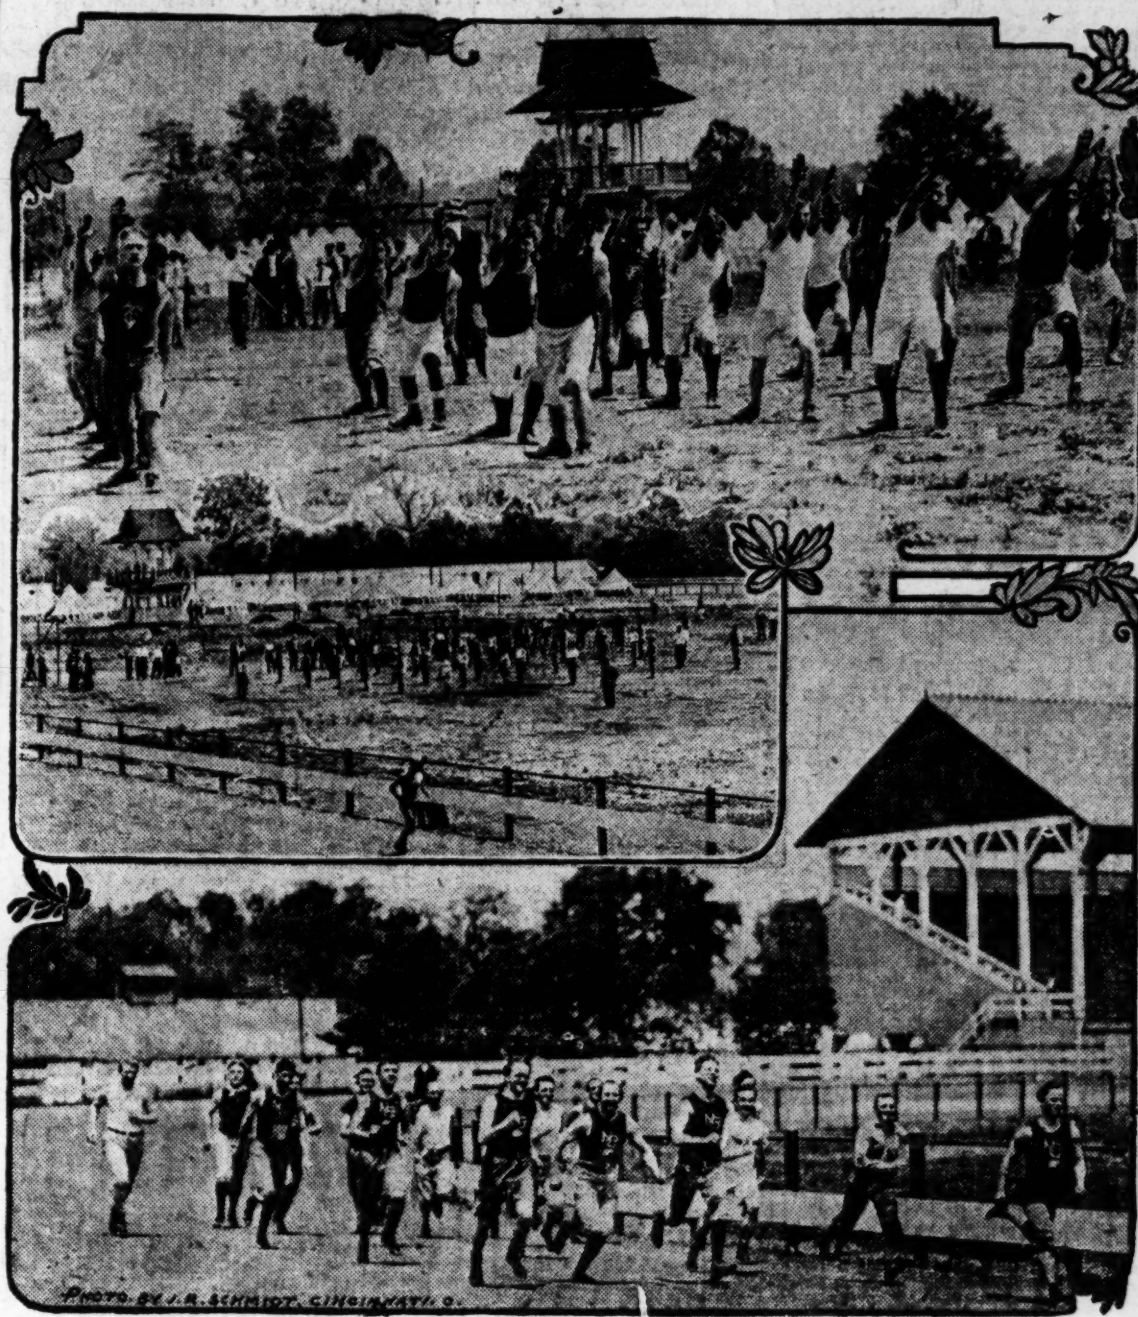

Melville E. Chapman, who had been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gould on the yacht Niagara on several trips in 1905, testified that Mrs. Gould was frequently under the influence of intoxicants and very loud and abusive in her language to the servants at those times.

She Wanted to Run Yacht.

The witness said that during a cruise to the West Indies he remembered several occasions when Mrs. Gould had been drinking and became dissatisfied with everybody and everything, and would become greatly excited, and say that she intended to run the boat, and that no one should take orders from anyone but herself. The witness described two such outbreaks, one in Santiago harbor and the other in Havana harbor.

"What did Mr. Gould do and say on these occasions?" asked Mr. Nicoll. "He invariably tried to soothe and calm her and pass the incident off pleasantly," replied the witness.

On cross-examination, Mr. Shearn asked if the witness was not under heavy financial obligations to Howard Gould, and if Mr. Gould had not put large sums of money in his hands.

TURNERS TRAINING FOR FEST IN CINCINNATI;
CAMP READY FOR 3,000 VISITING ATHLETES

President Taft has been invited to attend the national turnfest in Cincinnati on June 24, and if he accepts the invitation he will review the great parade and will be welcomed by a brass band seated in a balloon and playing "The Star Spangled Banner." The balloon will ascend from the railway station just as the president arrives. It is intended that the turners parade shall be the largest in numbers and the most varied in character ever held in Cincinnati. The 3,000 active participants in the turnfest will be quartered in a city of tents at the Carthage fair grounds. There will be visiting turners from France and Germany, and Italian and Greek societies will participate in the parade. A monster stage has been erected on Government square, where spectacles and exercises will be held every evening. The grandstand opposite the stage will seat 5,000 persons.

Met and Began Firing.

Lakeland, Fla., June 17.—A duel took place at noon today at Carters, a small station near here, between A. J. Jones, Superintendent of the Carter Manufacturing Company's mills, and Clyde Carter, a sawyer. Carter is in a dying condition, one shot passing through his head, and another through his body. Jones is seriously wounded, but may recover, a ball having struck him in the collarbone, passing through his neck.

The superintendent had been attempting to break up gambling about the mills, and Carter resented his interference. The men met in the company mill today, and both began firing at once. A companion of Carter's, Fred Jones, is in jail, charged with firing the shot that struck Jones.

Carter is a member of a prominent Georgia family, his father, Yancey Carter, having been a candidate for governor.

OFFICER SLAYS
WOMAN AND SELFTragedy in Red Light District of Macon.

Macon, Ga., June 18.—About 1 o'clock this morning Officer Oscar Abel, of the Macon police force, shot and killed Emma Raymond, in the red light district here. Whether a quarrel existed before the double murder or not cannot be ascertained before the coroner has arrived. The whole affair is shrouded in mystery. The officer was dressed in his uniform at the time, badge and all.

The woman was shot three times in the breast. Abel lived only a short time after shooting himself twice in the head.

Coast Line Pays Dividend.

New York, June 17.—A semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock was today declared by the directors of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company. This is an increase of 1 per cent on the last previous semi-annual dividend.

HARAHAN TALKS
OF THE CENTRALIt Will Be Important Link to Illinois Central.For the Present, at Least, the Georgia Line Will Be Operated Under Separate Management—Harahan Talks of Growth of South.

Chicago, June 17.—(Special.)—The Central of Georgia is to be made a very important link in the Illinois Central system, according to President J. T. Harahan, who returned from the east today, where the deal for the transfer of the seaboard line was consummated.

The cause for the purchase of the road is to be found in the fact that the development of the south has been so rapid of late years that the Illinois Central desires to place itself in a commanding position with respect to "water and traffic." Mr. Harahan stated that there was to be no immediate change in the management of the Central of Georgia, which would continue for the present, at least, to be operated under a separate management.

"In actual condition of traffic and operation," he said, "there is to be no change. Our road has always sustained close traffic relations with the Central of Georgia, and has through train service in connection with that road. The road gives us an outlet to the seaboard, and places us in position to keep in the fore rank with respect to southeastern traffic. In time there will be a great improvement in the through freight and passenger service between the middle west and the larger centers of the southeast."

The acquisition of the road by the Illinois Central bids fair to have an important effect upon the business relations between Chicago and the markets of the southeast. The Illinois Central is now in position to dictate freight rates to and from the southeastern markets and to place Chicago on a parity with the eastern manufacturing centers with respect to business to the southeast.

T. L. GRUZARD DIES

From Blood Poisoning—Was Prominent Odd Fellow.

Columbus, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—T. L. Gruzard, aged 65 years, a member of the city council and head of one of the largest building supply houses in Columbus, died today. A case of blood poisoning in his leg developed a day or two ago, and although the leg was amputated last night, the spread of the poison could not be checked. Mr. Gruzard was prominent in several secret orders, and was past grand master of the grand lodge of Georgia Odd Fellows.

DEMOCRATS SHY
AT TAFT'S PLANThey Propose to Fight for an Income Tax.They Believe the President's Proposal Is Intended to Prevent a Direct Vote on the Proposition for an Income Tax.

Washington, June 17.—When the income tax question comes up in the senate tomorrow, Senator Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, will again move that action be deferred until after schedules in the tariff bill shall have been completed.

This motion will carry with it President Taft's program for the enactment of a law taxing net earnings of corporations and the adoption of a resolution submitting the question of amending the constitution so as to permit congress to levy and collect a tax on incomes without regard to apportionment among the states. Mr. Aldrich will make the statement that he believes consideration of schedules may be finished by Monday, and he will suggest that the consideration of the income tax and corporation tax measures be postponed until that time.

Democrats Stand Pat.

At a caucus of the democratic senators today, it was decided that the minority shall stand by their previous declaration in favor of the enactment of an income tax law at the present session. The caucus was well attended. There were speeches by Senators Bailey, Shively, Culberson, Money and Rayner, and brief remarks by a number of others, in which the opinion was expressed that the administration movement in placing a tax on net earnings of corporations is designed to prevent the income tax amendment from receiving a direct vote.

All of these senators did not denounce the plan of President Taft for the taxing of corporations. Many democrats believe in that plan, but they are opposed to the side-tracking of the income tax issue.

Previously to the caucus there was a discussion of the president's program in the democratic cloak room. It was suggested that Senator Bailey might withdraw his amendment until after Senator Aldrich presents the amendment for a tax on the earnings of corporations. The purpose of that move would be to avoid the president's plan being offered as a substitute for the income tax amendment. The Bailey amendment then could be offered after the corporation tax amendment was before the senate, and only a motion to table or refer to a committee could displace it. Thus, a direct vote on the amendment, it was argued, could not be prevented. Senator Culberson, the minority leader, said tonight that the parliamentary tactics to be pursued had not been

City Council to See That the City Is Kept Clean and Free

Garbage—Action Must Be Taken Soon.

The health department, in behalf of the people of Atlanta, is making a most earnest appeal to the mayor and general council for sufficient funds with which to take care of the city during the summer. It has been clearly shown that unless a sufficient appropriation is made at once the sanitary department cannot remove the garbage from the yards.

Only recently the general council passed an ordinance forcing every citizen to provide a water-tight receptacle for the garbage collected on their premises. The people secured the receptacles, and paid out in the neighborhood of $100,000 in order to carry out the law, and at the same time keep the city clean.

The people at a great cost and some inconvenience have done their part.

Will the city government do its part? That is the question which will confront the general council when it meets next Monday afternoon.

Situation Very Serious.

Chief Jentzen sent a communication to the general council last Tuesday, in which he made a plain statement of the serious condition which faces the city. He says that he can no longer use vacant lots on which to dump garbage; that he has not enough wagons and mules with which to keep the yards clean; that he must have more teams at once. A new crematory, he states, would relieve the situation, but it is too late for that to do any good this summer. The relief must be immediate.

The health officer, Dr. J. P. Kennedy, every member of the board of health and Mayor Pro Tem, Charles M. Roberts, ex-officio member of the health board, all join with the sanitary chief in stating that something must be done at once if Atlanta is to be kept clean and free from disease germs. They all join in saying that the people have done all required of them to carry out the new sanitary law, and that it is up to the city government to have Atlanta free from uncleanness and disease.

The following is the very earnest way in which the health officials speak of the serious sanitary situation:

Was Never More Serious.

Health Officer J. P. Kennedy: "Atlanta was never faced with a more serious situation in her sanitary affairs. We called upon the people to keep their premises clean with water-tight garbage receptacles. They have done so, and now the sanitary department is unable to haul the garbage away. From a health point of view this means that Atlanta will suffer unless there is immediate relief. I cannot give too solemnly the warning. Today garbage cans are being allowed to remain unemptied for days because

The sanitary department has not enough cars. Something must be done, and that is all there is about it.

Mayor Pro Tem, Roberts: "Both as a member of the general council and the health board, I can state that the city is facing a serious situation. The sanitary department has never been well equipped, and since the new law went into effect it is less able than ever to keep the yards clean. The health of the city comes above every other consideration, and council will must provide from some source for the sanitary department. I will do all I can as a member of council to see that an extra appropriation is made at once."

Demand Must Be Heeded.

Dr. Bernard Wolff, president board of health: "I cannot use words too urgent when I state that the sanitary department must be better equipped at once. The health of the city demands it. I know that the city is hard pressed for funds, and that there are other calls, but this is one that must be heeded if Atlanta is to be kept healthy this summer. Our sanitary department is doing the very best it can, but it cannot do the work of cleaning the city equipped as it is at present. I believe when the matter is properly presented to council that we will get the help that we so urgently need."

Menacing and Dangerous.

Dr. Cyrus W. Strickler, vice president of the board of health: "Atlanta today is in need of three times the crematory capacity now afforded by the city. We can't get the crematory in time for this summer, so will have to make other provisions. With garbage left unattended to, or dumped too close to the city, a swarm of flies, most menacing and dangerous to the health of the city, will be bred, and disease and sickness follow. We need the money to protect the health of Atlanta, and it is up to council to provide for this need."

C. H. Brandon, secretary of the board, said: "Our present crematory has a capacity of 200,000 tons, and we have need for 500,000 tons capacity. The city must comply with the law as well as individuals, and in order that the law may be carried out we are obliged to have more money with which to handle the greatly increased garbage, since the cash has become compulsory. The matter has become most urgent and trying. Council will have to relieve the situation or menace the health of Atlanta."

Situation Grows Acute.

Dr. W. L. Gilbert: "Ever since I got on the board I have been making a fight for another crematory. It will have to come, and council has as well begin making plans. The city is growing rapidly, and we have far outstripped our present system. We can't handle all of the garbage at the plant, and the remainder has to be hauled and dumped. Those who live near these dumps are making us go out further and raising strenuous objections. We may have to have the roads haul and dump, but they want so much

The Aladdin's Lamp of the New York Central. The True Story of the Vanderbilt Millions.

Charles Edward Russell is telling the actual figures in the great money-making game as played by American railroads. Not generalizations; not vague, airy muck-raking fustian. Just plain facts and figures—bookkeeper's figures, and printed so you can understand them.

The life story of the Vanderbilts and their railroad told as never before, with startling documents to shed light.

If you buy coal, or flour, or meat, or clothing you have a very active interest in the history of the New York Central.

Russell is doing great work in this railroad series. He is telling the truth about railroads—but telling it in words of one syllable so that everybody can understand. If you're kicking about the cost of living you might take a look into the Vanderbilt fortune and find an answer.

HEAVY ROSTERS "PAT" CALHOUN

Scathing Attack on Magistrate by Prosecutor.

In Closing His Address to the Jury, Heney Alleges That Every Hair on Calhoun's Head Is Guilty—Case Will Go to the Jury Today.

San Francisco, June 17.—Francis J. Heney half completed, tonight, his closing argument for the prosecution in the case of Patrick Calhoun, charged with bribery. During his address, Mr. Heney admitted having an ambition to become district attorney under the new administration in San Francisco. He also outlined the theory of the prosecution designed to connect the president of the United Railroads with the accusation of bribery that has served as the basis of a five months' trial.

Mr. Heney declared the prosecution had no course open save to grant immunity to the supervisors who gave the most direct testimony against the defendant.

"You know how much force there was in Mr. Moore's offer to submit this case to you without argument," he said. "He came before you with a well-prepared address, and he asked for a day and a half. He has asked you to presume Patrick Calhoun innocent. He has asked you to presume that every man, woman and child in this community who has raised a hand in defense of justice, are accomplices of the deepest dye."

Says Calhoun Is Guilty.

"I am not a lawyer, but I have evidence of guilt to sink Patrick Calhoun to the bottomless pit of hell!"

"Every hair on his head is guilty. Caught in one crime, he has been back a dozen more to prevent his conviction and obstruct the course of justice."

"A man will do much for his liberty, even to the commission of new crimes. And Patrick Calhoun is willing to pull down this government, of which he boasts to be a stalwart supporter. I have purposely refrained, during this trial, from attempting to gain the friendship of man to this jury. I have done nothing to curry your favor. But you have watched me all these weeks, and you know what manner of man and what manner of prosecutor stand before you. You know whether or not I was justified in resenting what I did resent. Is there one among you who would have taken as much as I have taken? I did not mind it. I have been fighting for the people, and I will never go into a court again as long as I live and allow any man to abuse me for the performance of a public duty, so help me God."

"What does it matter to me if I am abused by an attorney like Earl Rogers, the partner of the infamous Luther Brown?"

Abbot Called Villain.

Reaching a discussion of the activities of William Abbott, of the legal force of the United Railroads, Mr. Heney said:

"I am talking about William Abbott, whom no milder villain ever cut a throat or scuttled a ship. In appearance a Sunday school superintendent, he is yet one of the meanest and most responsible of this record of black iniquity."

Referring to the relations of Abraham Ruef and Henry Ford, Mr. Heney said:

"Well, I will show you the man who saw Ford give this money, if he is here. His name is 'Trey' L. Ford, and he is the man who saw his own hand pass this bribe money to Ruef."

On two occasions that day he was called to Mrs. Gould's room, the bell boy said, and each time he saw Mrs. Gould and Mr. Farnum alone in the room. They were in the outside room, which was really a bedroom with a bed in it, but which Mrs. Gould used as a reception room, according to the witness. Mrs. Gould talked with him each time with the door partly closed, he said. He did not see them together in the public dining room or about the hotel at any time during the deposition. Farnum changed his room and obtained one on the floor above, directly over Mrs. Gould's room, according to the witness.

Mrs. Gould and Actor Farnum.

Counsel for Mr. Gould read into the records the deposition of a bell boy, James Clark, employed at Hotel Central, in Lynchburg, Va., where Dustin Farnum, the actor, was stopping in November, 1906, when Mrs. Gould arrived and stayed two or three days at the hotel on her way to Blue Gap farm, according to the deposition. The bell boy said he saw Mrs. Gould sitting in the reception room waiting for Mr. Farnum on November 19, and after Mr. Farnum came they went up to Mrs. Gould's room.

On two occasions that day he was called to Mrs. Gould's room, the bell boy said, and each time he saw Mrs. Gould and Mr. Farnum alone in the room. They were in the outside room, which was really a bedroom with a bed in it, but which Mrs. Gould used as a reception room, according to the witness. John H. Langford, 47 years of age, died at a private sanitarium early yesterday morning. The funeral will take place at the private chapel of Greenberg, Bond & Bloomfield at 10 o'clock this afternoon. Interment in West View. The deceased was one of the best known and most successful business men of the city. He was married to Mrs. J. J. Thielke, Mrs. W. B. Jackson, Mrs. H. S. Winn, Mrs. J. W. Tuck, Mrs. George E. Clark and A. M. Langford.

Terrell Moody, Cuthbert, Ga., died at a private sanitarium early yesterday morning. The body was removed to the funeral home of J. H. West, where the funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock. Interment in West View.

WEATHER: SHOWERS GET AN UMBRELLA

Gopher's Friend Plays in Hard Luck When He Comes Home.

Weather forecast: Local showers Friday. This is the official forecast issued by the local weather merchant, and also by the wholesale dealer in weather at Washington for Georgia. The prediction for Thursday was "fair," which allowed several slight showers to seep through, and incidentally cool off things a bit.

to murder," said Doc, ferociously, to his friend, the Gopher. "A few days ago she received an alarm clock, with an electric light attachment. I found town rather dull, and decided to go home. I had just reached the door of her room, when she was heard to say: 'What time is it, dear?' she asked, 'and like a wise old owl, I answered, 'Just a little past eleven, dear. I have been sitting up with a sick friend.' 'And then she flashed the light on the alarm clock, and there was I, caught in a difference of three hours. I tell you, a man can't have any more amusement. Too many inventions to get him into trouble.'"

METHODISTS PASS ON CHARACTERS

Licenses of Over Thirty Local Preachers Are Renewed.

An interesting day was passed yesterday by the Atlanta district conference, Methodist Episcopal church, south, at the Battle Hill church, many matters of interest consuming the time of the delegates.

In the morning the conference passed on the character of the local preachers and renewed their licenses. There were between thirty and forty in this class.

An address was delivered by Mrs. J. W. Lee and another by Mrs. Frank Siler in the interest of the Home Mission Society, and Rev. Nath Thompson spoke for the Rheinhardt college, at Waleska, Ga. Six hundred and fourteen dollars was raised by subscription for this institution.

Dr. J. S. French spoke at 11 o'clock on "Missions." In the afternoon the various committees made reports. They were all adopted by the conference.

Dr. J. D. Hammond, of Nashville, spoke on the subject of the education of the colored people. The following delegates to the annual conference to be held at St. Paul's church next winter were elected: J. A. McGahey, Battle Hill; Mr. Arthur St. Paul; J. A. McLeod, St. Mark's; and Frank P. Rice, First church.

Rev. J. S. Jenkins, presiding elder of the Rome district, spoke at night. The next day's session will be held at Wesley Memorial church.

DENIAL BY OFFICERS OF THE JONES CHARGES

In reply to charges brought by C. P. Jones, of 46 Scott street, against Sergeant A. L. Poole and Officers Cooper and Jameson of the police force, for alleged conduct unbecoming police officers in entering his home and subjecting the inmates to certain indignities, the officers last night made a statement denying the entire transaction, except the fact that they went to the house in search of Jones' brother, who is said to be an escaped convict. The officers say they did only their duty, and that they are not afraid they will be given trouble before the commissioners.

Sergeant Poole stated that up to 10 o'clock yesterday morning there had been no charges lodged with the police board. He says he is willing and anxious for an investigation into the merits of the case.

Van Dyne, commissioner of labor, Des Moines, Iowa; secretary-treasurer, W. L. A. Johnson, Topeka, Kans.

The next convention will be held in Hendersonville, N. C., the time to be determined by the association of officials of the Association of Officials of International Association of Bureau

TECH GRADUATES

Address of Evening Made by Judge Covington.

"The Only Aristocracy of the Future Is the Aristocracy of Service," Speaker Tells Tech Students—Chancellor Barrow Makes Talk.

Thirty-eight young men were graduated from the Georgia School of Technology at the Grand opera house last night. The graduating exercises came as a fitting climax to the excellent work done by the class as a whole. President Matheson, Judge W. A. Covington, Chancellor David G. Barrow and Hon. N. E. Harris addressed the students and their friends. Each reminded the graduates of their great opportunities and their corresponding great responsibilities.

The exercises were opened by prayer offered by Rev. John F. Madison, of Washington, Ga., after which President Matheson introduced Judge W. A. Covington, of Moultrie, Ga., who had been selected to deliver the annual address. In part, Judge Covington said: "Young gentlemen, the thing above all things you owe to your state and to yourselves to teach every day of your future life, both by precept and example, is that the finished product of industrialism is not exports and imports, not skyscrapers, not great trunk lines of railways, not the protection, completion and maintenance of great industries, but rather increasing the advancement in type of manhood and womanhood of our day, the bringing about of conditions, such that the large possibilities may be opened up to even the poorest children of the state."

Two Ends For Money.

"Today the end and object of civilization is often lost sight of in the pre-occupation of obtaining it. In the world-at-large we find two classes. One spends men for the sake of the money to be made. The other spends money for the men this may help to create. As you go out into the world, young gentlemen, you will find these two doctrines clamoring for the mastery of your lives. Take heed that you remember well that only that business, that enterprise which had for its ultimate end and aim ministering to the interests of humanity has any right to its existence."

"All ages have worshipped some form of aristocracy. The only aristocracy of the future is the aristocracy of service. Because of your advancement, young men, you are to become the ministers and high priests of democracy in Georgia, and it is your duty to teach and live that even the most humble form of toil is noble when so well accomplished as to make progress for humanity."

In closing, let me remind you that the unnumbered millions of past civilizations have left to you their unfinished tasks, and beseech you that you fail not in doing your share towards carrying them to completion."

Chancellor Barrow's Address.

Chancellor Barrow, of the State university, in part, said:

"Georgia, through her numerous institutions of learning and through us, her humble servants, is attempting to train her young men to cope with the problems of modern society, problems which are yearly becoming more and more complex. These increasing difficulties call for greater ability in order that they may be properly met and overcome. Rapidly, and thought and action are absolutely essential. The successful man must today think and act simultaneously. And skill alone is not sufficient. Earnestness and courage and faithfulness to purpose are essentials in this day of fierce competition and opportunities for graft and the satiation of greed."

"Go out into the world, young gentlemen, men talk of the coming invasion of our section by the educated. I tell you, young gentlemen, this invasion has already begun and is now going on. Our vast forests, our water power, our mines, our almost limitless resources have in many cases, been sold to eastern syndicates for a mere pittance, because the state has not been wise enough to educate her people to appreciate their true value. Unless the young Georgians of today are educated the future will surely find them hewers of wood and bringers of water for the educated and moneyed class."

"Go out into the world, young gentlemen, remembering these things, and bearing in mind that your native state has educated you for her service, for the service of her coming generations, and for the service of mankind at large."

Before delivering the diplomas, President Matheson made a short, earnest talk to the graduates, in which he reminded them of their duty arising out of their superior opportunities. Their one great duty to themselves and their state, he said, is to grow stronger.

Hon. N. E. Harris Speaks.

Hon. N. E. Harris, in the closing address to the graduates, among other things, said:

"Remember, young gentlemen, that you are the finished product of the Georgia School of Technology, whose honor rests in your keeping. Yours is a great responsibility. Your diplomas are proof of your alma mater's belief in you."

"As you come into contact with the world, you will learn many things, among others that the world can get along nicely without your assistance. However, it does not follow that it will not be vastly bettered by your presence. There is a place for each of you, but it remains for you to not only make for yourselves this place, but to fit yourselves to fill it."

"Before you, unknown worlds are waiting to be explored. Mankind is waiting for you to do your share of the exploration. Use the knowledge you have, make the most of your every opportunity, and all things are possible."

New York, June 17.—Broughton Brandenburg showed little concern today as the state, in a business-like way, continued its attempt to prove that the article sold The New York Times for $500, as Grover Cleveland's, was a forgery, and that Brandenburg knew it when he sold the article. When court adjourned late this afternoon he was chatting cheerfully with spectators, and apparently did not regard as damaging the testimony of the second witness.

COUNTY OFFICERS HOLD FINAL SESSION

Enthusiastic Good Roads Meeting Held.

Association Will Hold Its Next
Annual Convention at Tybee Island—Henry McAlpin Is Elected President.

Fitzgerald, Ga., June 17.—(Special.) The most important meeting of the county officers' convention came to order at the call of President McAlpin at Elks' hall this morning, and was brought to a close at 1 o'clock. Important papers were read by Judge W. P. Ward, Coffee county; Hon. W. F. George, Vienna; Colonel O. H. Elkins, Fitzgerald, and others. Tybee was selected for the next meeting place, and the following were officers elected:

Henry McAlpin, president; A. P. Ward, Coffee county, first vice president; O. T. Montfort, Taylor county, second vice president; D. W. M. Whitely, Fitzgerald, secretary and treasurer.

A good roads meeting, endorsing the Constitution, occurred at the Elks' hall at 3:30 tonight, preceding the Dutch supper and smoker given the delegates by the Ben Hill county officers. Hon. W. R. Bowen, chairman Ben Hill county commissioners, was elected chairman, and explained the object of the meeting. Nearly every county was represented by one or more speakers. In the brief talks made on good road work, and told of the work being done in their counties. Among the speakers were Wesley Walker, Fitzgerald; Hon. Josiah Flournoy, Columbus; William McKenna, Cobb county; Sheriff Willingham, Cherokee county; C. M. Smith, Warren; J. M. Hightower, Sparta. Every one was enthusiastic over the good roads movement. The sign post idea was advocated. The meeting adjourned to meet in Cordelle July 5.

CAMPBELL COUNTY AT WORK ON ROADS

Chairman Hammond, of County Board, Enthusiastic Over Atlanta-Columbus Road.

Chairman E. G. Hammond, of the board of county commissioners of Campbell county, was in the city yesterday and talked enthusiastically regarding the Constitution's pathfinding trip over the Atlanta-Columbus route to be made tomorrow.

"Our entire force of twenty convicts is now hard at work grading the very road which will be used as a part of the Atlanta-Columbus route," Chairman Hammond said.

"The people of Campbell are enthusiastic over the good roads movement, and our board is endeavoring to accomplish all it possibly can in that direction."

The Constitution is doing some magnificent work in arousing enthusiasm on this subject.

"We hope to have The Constitution's party stop with us a short time in Fairburn. Campbell county must have the Atlanta-Columbus road, and we are going to work to that end for all we are worth."

NEW SIGN POSTS NEEDED ON ROADS

Automobile Has Revolutionized Road Conditions.

Predicted That Automobiles Will Handle Freight Shipments Over Small Distances. Flounoy Pleads for State Highway Engineer.

Fitzgerald, Ga., June 17.—(Special.) "The automobile is revolutionizing the methods of carrying freight over short distances; it will, in a large measure, take the place of interurban electric railways."

This was the startling prediction made by N. L. Tift, of Albany, in a speech before the county officers of Georgia, who are holding a convention in this city. He declared that the increased use of the automobile would stimulate interest in good roads; that good roads were what the people everywhere wanted, and anything that would encourage their construction was of advantage to the state.

A good roads meeting was a feature of the first day's session of the county officers' convention. There was some misunderstanding about this meeting. Those who attended this convention were the sheriffs and clerks of the county courts. They are not the men who actually engage in the work of road construction. But they did with enthusiasm of the efforts being put forward by their respective counties.

Colonel Jesse E. Mercer, of Fitzgerald, announced that the meeting held last week in Albany had been adjourned to Fitzgerald, and he called N. L. Tift, the chairman of the Albany meeting, to take the chair. Mr. Tift made a brief address, and then William R. Bowen, chairman of the county commissioners of Ben Hill county, was made permanent chairman, according to the custom which has prevailed in the past.

Observe Sign Post Law. One of the first of the practical questions in connection with road building, discussed before the gathering, was the matter of properly posting the roads of the state. There is now a law requiring mile posts and sign boards on the state's public roads, but the law has fallen into disrepair.

The county officers themselves have recently experienced the difficulty which this neglect has caused. In touring their own sections in automobiles, they have found it difficult to travel without directions once outside their own counties. With the roads of their counties they are, of course, familiar, but they get lost in the neighboring counties as easily as the average traveler by the public road.

The officers declared that from now on they propose to see that the state law requiring sign posts and mile posts is strictly observed in their respective counties.

How Ben Hill Works It. Mr. Bowen told of the plans made by Ben Hill in this line. They have received a proposition from an advertising concern to erect and maintain the guide posts along the roads if given the privilege of placing advertising matter thereon. The county commissioners have practically decided to accept the proposal.

At the meeting last night the roll of counties was called, and one representative from each county present was urged to tell what was being done for the cause of good roads in his county.

J. H. McClure, clerk of the court of Campbell, said his county was spending all the money it could get in the effort to improve its roads.

W. P. Ward, the ordinary of Coffee county, said the people in his section were losing no opportunity to advance the good roads movement, and sent a delegation with the scout cars on the trip to Macon and another to Jacksonville. He said the county was not only spending all the money it had, but was borrowing money for road work.

Straightening Roads. "We are straightening the roads, grading, hills and filling up the valleys," he continued. "We are making the roads 30 feet wide and running them as straight as they can be run. We clay them 20 feet."

John C. Flinn, tax collector of Crisp,

PHILADELPHIA SOCIETY GIRL AND GENTLEMAN JOCKEY TO WED

An event of interest to the fashionable set of New York, Newport and Philadelphia is the forthcoming wedding of Miss Frances Fell and A. J. Devereux, which is set for June 21. Miss Fell's mother had planned a yacht trip to the Mediterranean for her this summer when the young woman announced that she was engaged to Mr. Devereux and that they intended to be married this month. The cruise was abandoned. The heiress and the gentleman jockey—for Mr. Devereux is distinguished as such in the smart set—were constant companions at the recent horse show in Philadelphia, and their friends were not greatly surprised when the engagement was announced soon afterward. Miss Fell is a granddaughter of A. J. Drexel, and will inherit many millions.

He said his county was not behind any in the state in their appreciation of good roads, and was making plans to improve its highways.

William McKenna, sheriff of Cobb county, said everybody in his section was alive to the importance of good roads, and proposed to build up the highways to as high a grade of perfection as possible. Sheriff B. F. Willingham, of Cherokee, spoke along the same line.

J. M. Clark, clerk of the court of Dodge county, said 30-foot roads were being built in his county, and they were being clayed 24 feet.

H. M. Manson, of Clayton county, reminded his hearers that Clayton was the third from the smallest county in the state, but that it was spending about $700 a month on its roads. He said they were building roads with only 3 percent grade, even though in some places it is necessary to blast through rock to cut down the grade. He said they were preparing to issue $50,000 in bonds, due in four or five years, and might double the bond issue and macadamize the roads.

Commissioner Walker, of Ben Hill, said his county had recently voted an extensive work on the roads. He said they planned to make the roads so good that they would form a temptation to the travelers by public road from Atlanta and Macon to Jacksonville, Fla., to come through Ben Hill county. James A. Walden, of Hancock, said his county was building roads 30 feet wide.

Demands Highway Engineer. Josiah Flournoy, of Muscogee, declared that a state highway commissioner, who was also a practical engineer, was the emergent need of the state today. He said unless the skilled services of such an engineer were secured to assist with advice the road authorities, that millions would be wasted in useless experiments on roads thrown away on roads that were not properly constructed.

Reason Paulk, clerk of the court of Turner county, electrified the audience when he told them that his county had spent $25,000 in the past two years on the roads and was still carrying on these improvements.

C. M. Moye, sheriff of Washington county, said his county had been using

DISCIPLE OF LAURENS FOR FREE PAPER

And Also to Remove Duty From Wood Pulp.

Senator Brown, of Nebraska, Is Leading the Fight—Tillman Scores Protection Newspapers That Are Crying for Free Paper.

Washington, June 17.—The battle to place wood pulp and print paper on the free list was opened up in the senate today under the leadership of Senator Brown, of Nebraska. Going over to the portion of the chamber in which Senators Aldrich, Hale, Frye, Lodge, Gallinger, Smoot and other leaders have their seats, the Nebraska senator stood in the midst of the opposing force and with good nature, banded thrusts that came to him from all quarters as he delivered a telling speech in behalf of the cause he had espoused.

Showing familiarity with all available information on the wood pulp and paper schedule, Mr. Brown frequently quoted from various authorities to sustain his contention that wood pulp and print paper are both produced in the United States with cheaper labor and cheaper materials, resulting in a cheaper product, than can be obtained in the dominion of Canada.

Duty Not Justified. Citing a list of wages in this country and Canada, he undertook to show that the United States had an advantage in that respect. Turning to his republican colleagues, he asked them how in view of the fact, they could justify a duty on these products for the "protection of labor."

Without divulging the source of their information in any definite manner, Senator Aldrich flatly contradicted these statements in reference to wages and cost of production. They insisted that the Mann committee of the house of representatives, from which Mr. Brown quoted, was lacking in accurate testimony and contended that even accepting that report, it could not be maintained that the United States had an advantage in the production. This dispute ran along for two hours.

There was a large attendance of democrats, who, for the most part, remained silent throughout the debate. Senator Tillman was an exception. "These very papers that are asking for free paper," said Mr. Tillman, "are the very headlines of protection and they deny me the opportunity to buy this coat or shoes without a tariff (illustrating by pointing to the articles of his attire), yet they want free paper."

"Humbbug," says Tillman. Looking about the senate with a deep scowl, Mr. Tillman brought his foot down on the velvet carpet with resounding effect as he added: "They are humbugs."

Then he took his seat. Senator Bailey was also heard briefly. In factious measure he suggested, giving an amendment should be made to free trade papers and levying a duty on paper used by protective tariff journals.

Mr. Brown still held the floor when the senate adjourned earlier than usual to permit a democratic caucus. He will resume the debate on his amendment for free paper tomorrow.

The senate today adopted a lower duty on such glass than is provided either by the Dingley law or by the house bill.

The schedule relating to lithographic paper, calendars, cigar bands and such products were adopted.

At 3:54 o'clock the senate adjourned.

De Palma Breaks Record. Readville, Mass., June 17.—The world's automobile record for 25 miles was broken at the Readville track today by Ralph DePalma. His time was 23 minutes 35 seconds. Barnard, who held the record, made 28 3/5 seconds. The race was made at Fresno, Cal., December 13, 1904.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS. At yesterday's meeting of the county officers of Georgia, held at Fitzgerald, Ga., attention was called to the present need for a more strict observance of the state law requiring public roads to be properly marked with sign boards.

The law on this subject has been largely ignored of late years by the county commissioners of the state, but the increased travel by automobile and the greatly revived interest in road improvement have made county officers charged with road construction, look more closely into this subject.

Under the law, it is made the duty of the road overseers appointed by the county commissioners to see that mile posts are erected at the proper distances and sign boards placed at the forks of every public road. Failure to do this is punishable by fine.

In section 7, paragraph 552 to 55, of the Code of Georgia it is provided as part of the duties of overseers, that—"They shall measure all that part of the road to which they may be appointed, beginning at the court-house, and at the end of each mile set a post or mark on some conspicuous place, which shall designate the number of miles from thence to said courthouse, and the overseer in the next adjoining district shall likewise begin to measure and mark at the last mile post in the district thus measured, but when such district shall end at the same county line, he shall, by some post or mark, designate the distance from such county line to their respective courthouses."

"If any overseer fails to comply with the provisions of the two preceding sections, he forfeits not exceeding $50, to be imposed and collected as other fines against him."

If any overseer omits to do his duty with respect to the roads, bridges and causeways under his charge, for as much as thirty days from the necessity for any immediate work occurs, unless hindered by extremely bad weather or other providential cause, he shall be indicted and is also liable for all damages at the suit of any person injured by such omission."

sum in purchasing good roads equipment, and is now ready to do excellent work. He declared that Twigg intends to be on the main route, and that she will meet Laurens at the line with an excellent road.

Laurens, Out for Good Roads. County Attorney Blackshear spoke for Laurens. He told of the great good roads meeting held at Macon, and declared that the people of Laurens are determined to live up to the good things said of them there. He traced the good roads movement from the time of the ancient Romans, and declared that England and France owe much of their present prosperity to their intelligent work for roads. Mr. Blackshear thought the meeting when he expressed the hope that the coming session of the general assembly would secure the enactment of an act giving the state aid to road-building. He pledged Laurens county to meet the other counties at the line with splendid roads.

Chairman William Kea, of the Laurens county board, stated that he is a good roads man from the top of his head to the bottom of his foot, and that he is going to cooperate with the other counties in building good roads.

Indorse The Constitution. Following these speeches, resolutions introduced by J. M. Outler and J. P. Flinn, endorsing the Constitution, were passed unanimously, on motion of Colonel J. A. Thomas, the chairman was empowered to appoint an executive committee to work with the county officers along the Savannah to Macon route.

Among the prominent Laurens county citizens active in the meeting were J. M. Flinn, J. M. Outler, J. A. Thomas, J. A. Weaver, T. J. Grinstead, Isaac Lowery, D. W. Bailey, L. Beacham, W. L. Rawls, J. E. Smith, M. E. Burt, D. C. Hughes, S. M. Kellam, J. F. Colley, R. Wesley Kea, John M. Blackshear, William Kea, W. B. Rice, J. L. Keen, T. J. Blackshear, Dr. J. E. New, J. J. Rawls, J. E. Smith, J. J. Winn, A. P. Hilton, of the Dublin Times, and H. M. Stanley, of The Courier-Dispatch.

Mayor A. W. Evans, of Sandersville, and C. G. Rawlings were among the Washington county citizens present. Robert H. Twigg, of Atlanta, formerly with The Constitution, was also present.

Auto Ride for Visitors. In the automobile ride given the visitors after the luncheon, the following cars, J. A. Kelley (Studebaker), J. E. Smith (Jackson), Dr. New (Studebaker), Claude Brantley (Maxwell), Judge K. J. Hawkins (Studebaker), J. M. Outler (Ford).

The roads around Dublin have been improved on the clay-and-sand method, and are excellent, the road leading out toward Macon for several miles being especially fine.

WRIGHT BROTHERS
HONORED AT HOME

All Dayton Turns Out to Pay Homage to the Aviators.

Dayton, Ohio, June 17.—In the city in which a few years ago they began in obscurity their first flights, the Wright brothers today received the homage of their townspeople. Escorted by brass bands, through triumphal arches, through streets lined with thousands of people, the Wright brothers appeared the least conscious that anything unusual was going on, when that part of the program was completed which required them to appear before the aviators of the Wrights. The Wrights appeared and said: "Thank you, gentlemen."

Fluttering in banners and gay decorations, Dayton left nothing undone to honor the aviators. Business was suspended, except for the sale of toy airplanes and post cards illustrative of the Wrights' career.

60,000 FREIGHT CARS
WANTED BY RAILROADS

Orders Indicate That Prosperity Is Returning to the Country.

New York, June 17.—The returning prosperity of the country is indicated by the activity of railroad car manufacturers. Orders for fully 60,000 freight cars will be placed soon, according to the Iron and Steel Trade papers. The Pennsylvania railroad is in the market for 35,000 cars, and the Baltimore and Ohio has completed arrangements and will receive bids from 8,000 to 10,000. The Harriman lines have received a contract for 2,250 freight cars, of which 1,300 are the box type. The American Car and Foundry Company has received a contract for 2,250 freight cars, of which 1,300 are the box type. The Chicago and Great Western is in the market for 1,000, and the Northern Pacific for 2,000 cars.

Official announcement that the Harriman lines have ordered 150,000 tons of steel rails to cost $4,200,000 is expected.

Forty stab wounds
IN WOMAN'S BODY

The Skull of Mrs. Kate Sprenze Was Also Fractured.

Pottsville, Pa., June 17.—With her skull fractured and forty stab wounds in her body, Mrs. Kate Sprenze and her 7-year-old daughter, Gussie, badly injured, were found lying in their home at Coaldale, near here, today. Near them lay an infant, scattered with blood from the mother and sister, but not injured. There is no clue as to who made the attack. Mrs. Sprenze keeps a boarding house, here, ten boarders working in the coal mines. The state police will examine the boarders. There is no hope for the recovery of the victims.

DEMOCRATS SHY AT TAFT'S PLAN

taken up at the caucus, and would be determined later.

Draft of Taft Amendment. Attorney General Wickersham presented to Senator Aldrich last night the draft of the amendment which President Taft desires to have adopted, placing a tax on the net earnings of corporations. This draft was submitted to the republican members of the finance committee today, but no action was taken regarding it. It was not made public, and members of the committee declined to discuss its provisions.

That "congress shall have power to lay and collect direct taxes upon income without apportionment among the several states, according to population," is the subject of an amendment to the constitution proposed in a resolution submitted to the senate today by Senator Brown.

The resolution provides for the submission of the question to the legislatures of the several states for their approval as suggested by the president. It was referred to the committee on finance.

Senator McLaughlin, of Mississippi, suggested that if the reference to direct taxes was stricken out, it would accomplish the object sought and at the same time would permit the levying of other taxes on the same line instead of confining it to incomes alone.

Agreeing with the Mississippiian, Mr. Brown said his purpose was to confine the tax to incomes.

WIFE OF PHYSICIAN KILLED BY CHLOROFORM

Experts Declare the Poison Was Administered Externally.

Chicago, June 17.—Chloroform—administered externally—caused the death of Mrs. Nora Jane Clemenson, wife of Dr. Haldane Clemenson, of this city, May 31, according to an official report made to Coroner Hoffman tonight by Dr. Walter S. Haines and Dr. E. L. Count, after a chemical analysis.

Dr. Clemenson was arrested after his wife's death. He declared that she must have poisoned herself accidentally, and no disposition of his case has been made. The coroner's inquest will be reopened tomorrow. Coroner Hoffman said the analysis showed that the chloroform had not been taken internally. He stated also that it would be extremely difficult for a person to commit suicide by an external application of the poison, as sleep would come before the second application could be made.

PROTEST AGAINST USE OF CITY PARKS

Macon Merchants Secure Temporary Injunction.

They Complain the Mayor and Council Are Appropriating Parks Long Used by Farmers for Their Teams.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—B. T. Adams & Co., Walter Turpin, Barfield & Brown, J. A. Flournoy, H. D. Adams Company, Adams Grocery Company, all merchants and property owners along Poplar street, secured an injunction against the mayor and council of Macon this morning requiring a showing before Judge Felton before the further utilizing of portions of the Poplar street parks for trees and grasses can proceed. Judge Felton signed the petition and set tomorrow for the hearing.

The merchants complain that the mayor and council are appropriating the parks that have long been used by the farmers for stopping places for their teams. The merchants have also been allowed a long time to place large quantities of cotton on the grounds.

For several months the business men along Poplar street and the mayor and council have had tiffs over the planting of trees and grass. The question will now be settled in the courts.

FIREMEN TO MAKE DEMAND OF ROAD

If Reply Is Unsatisfactory a Strike Will Be Called on Texas and Pacific.

Texarkana, Ark., June 17.—Following the conclusion of the secret session of the subcommittee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, discussing a controversy between the Texas and Pacific railroad, as to the right of the order to represent its members, prominent officials of the Texas and Pacific, Iron Mountain and International and Great Northern roads, met here yesterday afternoon to discuss traffic matters of common interest to the roads named. While no official statement as to the conclusions of the subcommittee was given out, it is declared that a final demand is to be made on the Texas and Pacific road, and that an unsatisfactory reply would doubtless result in a call for a general strike on the Gould system of railroads.

DR. LENOX NEWMAN DIES FROM WOUNDS

Victim of a Street Duel That Took Place at Meadville, Miss.

Natchez, Miss., June 17.—Dr. Lenox Newman, aged 22 years, son of Dr. A. M. Newman, who was killed in the street duel at Meadville Monday, died early today at Chamberlain's sanitarium, in this city. He is the third victim of Monday's tragedy, in which his father and Elias Reynolds were killed.

Herbert Applewhite, a lawyer, of Meadville, who was wounded in the fight, is at the Meadville sanitarium, with little chance for his recovery. Ernest Newman, who was also wounded, will recover. Ten men are under arrest for complicity in the feud, and their preliminary hearing will be held Monday next in Meadville.

West Point Teachers.

West Point, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—At a school board meeting this afternoon, the following teachers were elected for the ensuing year: Professor W. P. Thomas, superintendent; Miss Lucy Flewelling, of Union Springs; Mrs. Nellie Webb, of Opelika; Miss Graham, of Buena Vista, Ga.; Miss Carrie Lou Griggs, Mrs. Lizzie Christian and Mrs. Lura Farrell, of West Point. The election of a principal was deferred until the next school board meeting.

WANT FARMERS' UNION PART OF FEDERATION

Resolution Passed at Yesterday's Meeting.

Federation Will Probably Pass Resolution Asking Legislature to Enact Law Requiring Chauffeurs to Be Licensed.

Columbus, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—When the Georgia Federation of Labor adjourned for the day this afternoon, a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to go before the Georgia Farmers' Union, at its meeting in Macon, and invite that organization to affiliate with the federation, was under discussion. The resolution will in all probability be adopted tomorrow morning.

In the discussion it was declared that much could be accomplished by such a combination of forces. A resolution was adopted memorializing the legislature to enact a law that all chauffeurs, except automobile owners, be licensed, after first undergoing examination as to their qualifications for the position. The object being to weed out boys and irresponsible persons from places of chauffeurs.

The federation also adopted a resolution that plumbers should be licensed, the license being based on their knowledge and qualifications.

At the evening session Jerome Jones, of Atlanta; D. P. McConnell, of Augusta, and others, made addresses. The feature of the greatest interest yesterday was the adoption of a resolution protesting against the licensing of detective agencies by the Atlanta police commission. This resolution was inspired by the recent issuance of such licenses during the Georgia railroad strike, enabling Pinkerton detectives to enter the city and do work in behalf of the railroad company.

THEATERS

Bijou Show Is a "Pippin."

If you want to know whether a show is good or bad, the best way to find out is to stand in the lobby and hear what people say about it as they come out.

"It's a pippin," is not very elegant, but it is expressive, and those who hear it will go right up and see for themselves. The show at the Bijou this week is a "pippin," so everybody says, and the little house is kept constantly ringing with the applause of enthusiastic patrons, who have sent a pretty, bright and snappy musical act, with several changes of costume. Miss Pearl Laight sings some particularly tuneful and catchy illustrated songs, of which "Two Blue Eyes" appears to be a favorite. Tom Wilks, in his singing and lariat throwing stunt, gives a very interesting and expert exhibition of this difficult art, and the moving pictures are especially appealing, for they are all funny and people always like to laugh.

The Bijou is cool and the bill is composed of headliners. Ask anyone who has been this week.

At the Lyric.

As the day draws nearer for the departure of the Bijou Musical Comedy Company from Atlanta, the realization among Atlanta theater-goers becomes keener that it is an exceptional organization, which has made merry at the Lyric this summer, and the feeling of sorrow strengthens.

Henrietta Lee, Marie Fanchonetti, Robert Hart, George Moore, Dan Marble, Will Hatter, and all the rest have won homes in the hearts of the local amusement loving colony, and will be a welcome awaiting them any time they care to return. The chorus, too, is a chorus of favorites from Florida Madison, the dashing leader, Marie St. Clair, Alice Barbour, and Patsy Campbell, all the way through the entire list of merry "Musical Maidens."

At the Casino.

In the leading role of "DuBarry," Miss Edna May Spooner runs the whole gamut of the emotions, and she proves as charming in the lighter parts as she is effective in the deep, vibrant, heart-tirring scenes which mark the close of the wonderful historical drama.

Special interest attaches to the presentation of "DuBarry" by Miss Spooner at the Casino at Ponce de Leon this week, for it is her own version she is presenting, and the versatile actress is appearing, therefore, in the dual role of actress and playwright. And she is making a profound and most favorable impression in both roles.

At Ponce de Leon.

It's downright hard to keep away from Ponce de Leon these summer days. The appeal of the out-of-doors is almost irresistible.

And when the appeal comes from a pleasure park such as Ponce de Leon, a park literally "with everything for everybody," the appeal is not "almost," but "entirely" irresistible. In proof of which the great throngs of an afternoon or night are eloquent witness.

Clinchfield, the Coal of Quality, is best for every use.

WANT JERE M. POUND TO HEAD BIBB SCHOOLS

Effort Being Made at Macon to Get School Commissioner.

Macon, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—An effort is being made in the ranks of the Bibb county board of education to bring Jere M. Pound back to the head of the school system. Superintendent C. B. Chapman is standing for reelection, however, and will easily have a sufficient vote to get his place again. Mr. Pound was superintendent of the schools here before Superintendent Chapman took charge, and is one of the ablest educators in the state. Superintendent Chapman was many years head of Gresham High school, and has many friends who hold him in high esteem as a worker for the good of the system here.

To Have Bond Hearing.

Forayth, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—Tuesday, June 22, at McDonough, Ga., Judge Keagan, of the First circuit, will hear objections to the validation of the bonds, recently voted by the citizens of Forayth for sewage. Some time ago the voters decided upon an issue by the mayor and aldermen of Forayth of $15,000 worth of bonds to be used for the purpose of laying a system of sewers in the city, the bonds to bear date July 1, 1909, to run thirty years, and to bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent, payable annually.

What we say in our advertisements is exactly what we say to one another here in the store. There are too many wise heads and too many sound consciences and too many keen eyes concerned with this business of ours to let overstatement or misstatement creep in. Not that we need to keep tab on one another--the spirit of the organization eliminates that need. But we all understand one another and there's no quarter shown here to sham or exaggeration.

This applies to any and every sale we have--to all the transactions of the house, little or big. But it just kind o' drifted naturally into this announcement about the Furniture. There's so much need for you to be sure when you spend your money for Furniture, you see. So many ways for you to be taken in.

DOG THAT IS TRYING TO COMMIT SUICIDE

"Suicided, last night--one dog, at the corner of South Broad and West Mitchell streets. Body removed. Cause of the deed unknown."

The above would probably be the gist of a tale told by Police Officer Randall, of the evening watch, stationed on the Broad and Mitchell streets beat, if a certain homeless, cast-off dog, having his headquarters on the officer's beat, out in the street under a blazing electric light, should succeed in his apparent attempts to end his life, for--

During the past several months, at dead of night, when the busy street traffic of the day has largely subsided and the space under this particular arc light is infested with various bugs of the air and water, trying to rise again, and to numerous creeping and crawling things which venture forth in search of what they may find, the same dog has frequently and, to all appearances, tried to kill himself--simply by lying down in front of the

DEAF MUTE INSPECTS LOT OF GARBAGE CANS

Empties 25 and Put Strange Mark on Them--Police Pulled Him.

Just because he went on an official tour of inspection of garbage cans located on Bill Taylor, Fort, Pratt, Decatur and possibly other streets, Sam Robinson, a young negro mute, was arraigned before the recorder yesterday afternoon and fined $18.75. His tour of inspection did not bring him in enough for the fine, so he was sent to the stockade.

The case was made by Officers Hollingsworth and Hewell, the former of whom swore that it was reported to him that Robinson visited houses in the above mentioned district and emptied the garbage cans, numbering twenty-five, or more. Being a mute, the negro had a hard time making his business known, but he emptied the cans just the same, and, after this, put a curious-looking mark on each and then made other marks in a notebook. So far as is known, he made no charges for his services. At one place he took an old negro woman by the arm and made motions in the direction of the brand-new garbage can. The old Councilman Johnston Inspects New Truck for Atlanta's Fire Department.

Councilman Steve R. Johnston returned yesterday from Niagara Falls, where he had been to attend the session of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Honor.

While en route home, Mr. Johnston visited Elmira, N. Y., and inspected the new aerial fire truck, which is being built for Atlanta's fire department. He says the truck, which can reach a height of 75 feet, is one of the finest and most complete ever made in this country.

Woman Rebuffed Him, So He Went With Her to the Jail

Officer Hollingsworth testified that when he got after the negro, the latter took to his heels, and, before caught, made an effort to tear up his notes. Robinson refused to make a statement of the affair, although he was offered pad and pencil with which to write to the judge.

Makes Insanity Plea.

Charlotte, N. C., June 17.—W. S. Biggers, who is being tried for the killing of J. Green Hood last February, today through his counsel, set up the plea of insanity as his defense. Dr. S. M. Crowell testified that he was convinced, after an examination of the defendant, that the latter was suffering from "confusional insanity." Former Representative S. B. Alexander, an eye-witness to the tragedy, was a witness for the defense, asserting as his belief that Biggers was mentally deranged when he killed Hood.

CASCADE PURE WHISKY

We suspected when it appeared that the above article referred to Cascade. Because we knew from the grain it's made of and the way it's distilled, aged and bottled and its rich, smooth mellowness that Cascade could not help but fit the description. So we asked the Nashville American about it. They wired their Washington correspondent as follows:

In your dispatches last night to The American you quote the government food expert as saying that of all the whiskies he knew "a well known Tennessee brand was the best and most honest." A local distiller has requested us to ascertain if possible to what particular brand of Tennessee whisky did the food expert refer. If you can consistently advise, please answer by wire.

AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE CARDINAL GIBBONS SPEAKS

Emmettsburg, Md., June 17.—In an address to the girl graduates of St. Joseph's College and Academy today Cardinal Gibbons declared against woman's suffrage, saying in part: "I am entirely opposed to woman suffrage, not because I hate the women, but I love them and want them to fulfill the mission for which God intended them. If you play in the arena of politics you will be covered with its dust. If you grasp too much you lose everything."

The United States. This is largely due to the chivalry and courtesy of the men, and if you are protected by the male sex, what more do you want? I want to remind you that woman has a great mission in life. You should, therefore, have a deep sense of your responsibility in the democratic walks of life. You cannot hope to preach in the church, but you can preach in your homes and reach those with whom you come in contact in your daily lives. Preach to your father and brothers. We be to society if it had to depend upon the male sex alone—it would certainly go to the devil."

$19,910 GIVEN FOR ANSLEY HOME

Edwin Ansley Will Build a Home in Ansley Park.

The auction sale of Edwin P. Ansley's beautiful Decatur home yesterday afternoon resulted in the sum of $19,910.50 for the entire place. Forrest Adair acted as auctioneer, and was in his happiest vein, and the bidding, too, was of such enthusiastic nature that the sale is certain to go down in history as an epoch marker.

Mr. Adair at the very outset stated that he considered it as almost a sin to cut up this magnificent estate of some six acres, but that the sale would be conducted as advertised, and the fourteen lots, in addition to the home site, would be sold separately. He also stated that the only reason this beautiful place was offered for sale was because of the fact that Mr. Ansley had already started work on his new place in Ansley Park, and would move into his new residence as soon as it was completed.

After brisk and hotly contested bidding, S. H. Chadbourne, of the well-known firm of George H. McAdams & Brothers, and recognized as one of the best cotton experts in the south, secured the home place and all of the remaining fourteen lots with three exceptions, paying $19,910.50 for all his purchases, the lot on which the home, barn and famous spring is located bringing $10,000. S. A. Morris was the purchaser of one of the remaining lots and M. B. Mayson the other two.

"My only reason for ever giving up this home," said Mr. Ansley, "is that when I first began the development of Ansley Park five years ago, I stated that I intended to make my home there. This and the fact that the growth of the park has been such as to demand more and more of my personal supervision are alone responsible for this place being offered for sale."

Mr. Chadbourne said that he intended to make this Decatur place his home, and would move his family there the first of the coming month.

GETS 10 YEARS IN PEN.

Savannah Man Is Found Guilty of Robbery.

Savannah, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—Ten years in the penitentiary was the sentence imposed on Frank Brown, convicted of robbery by force, by Judge Walter G. Charlton, of the superior court, here today. Brown was indicted jointly with Alonzo A. Pitts for the robbery, but the case was tried separately. Pitts will go on trial tomorrow.

The men are charged with holding up and robbing G. A. Cassidy, one of the principal streets in the city in the early evening. An interesting feature is that Cassidy shortly afterwards secured a revolver and shot Pitts three times. Cassidy is to be tried for assault with intent to murder. In sentencing Brown, Judge Charlton said he was going to put a stop to wholesale robbery in Savannah and all other wild west crimes.

Judge Whipple to Hear Case.

Macon, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—Judge U. V. Whipple, of Cordele, will be here tomorrow morning to take up the hearing in the case of former President J. W. Cabaniss, of the Exchange Bank, on motion for a new trial. The only procedure that will hardly occur will be the taking of orders allowing more time to the attorneys who are working for the defense. Volumes of testimony and briefs have been gotten in shape since the former trial was concluded.

Tobacco Development.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17.—(Special.)—Commissioner of Agriculture J. A. Wilkinson and Tobacco Expert Hansford, of the national department of agriculture, are looking over the tobacco field in Mobile county this week, and will also take a trip into other sections, where the tobacco is being made. Active experiments are now going on near Foley, as well as in Escambia, Perry, Bullock and Mobile counties. The state is going to lend every aid it can to the movement, the officers believing that the future of the trade holds great things for Alabama.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

(Incorporated by the State of New York. Stock Company)
JOHN R. HEGEMAN, PRESIDENT

GREAT REDUCTION OF EXPENSES--INCREASED BENEFITS--LOWER RATES

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

In January, 1907, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company largely increased the benefits in its Industrial policies by reason of a heavy reduction in expenses, and improvement in mortality experience.

During the past three years the Company has steadily reduced its expenses, so that it is enabled to make a further increase in benefits. Industrial insurance policies have a unit of weekly premium—three cents, five cents and multiples thereof—and the amount of insurance varies with the age.

All Industrial Life policies (premiums cease after age 74), Endowment policies at age 50 and Adult Twenty-year Endowment.

Policies issued since Jan. 1, 1907, will be increased in benefits about ten per cent.

according to a new table of benefits adopted for policies issued after July 1, 1909. In other words, not only does the Company issue a new table for policies hereafter issued, but it makes the increase retroactive since the present form of Limited Payment and Endowment at age 50 policies were adopted.

Upon the OLD INDUSTRIAL POLICIES the Company is paying out TWO AND A HALF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN BONUSES THIS YEAR, bringing up the total Bonuses and Concessions upon Industrial policies to EIGHTEEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN SIXTEEN YEARS. This is OVER AND ABOVE ANY AND ALL OBLIGATIONS, expressed or implied in the policies.

The Metropolitan in its Industrial Department has the lowest Ratio of Expense of all the Industrial Insurance Companies in the world, which pay immediate benefits. In FIVE YEARS its

Ratio of Expense to Premium Income has been Reduced Annual Saving to Three and a Half Millions of Dollars

8 per cent, representing an then automatically converted into endowment insurance, the maturity of which is periodically shortened as payment of premiums continues.

The Company is abreast of the public demand for combination of term insurance and annuities, and serves the public better than any other agency.

INDUSTRIAL POLICIES IN FORCE: NEARLY $5,000,000. INSURING NEARLY $1,500,000,000.

ORDINARY DEPARTMENT

The Company has reduced expenses six per cent in this department in the last five years—representing an ANNUAL SAVING OF OVER A MILLION AND A QUARTER OF DOLLARS IN THE ORDINARY DEPARTMENT.

The Company issues policies in the Ordinary Department in amounts from $500 to $1,000,000 upon all approved plans at the lowest rates. In 1908 IT WROTE MORE PAID-UP BUSINESS IN ITS ORDINARY OLD LINE INSURANCE (exclusive of Industrial), in the United States and Canada, THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY.

All of its policies in the Ordinary as well as the Industrial Department are written on the non-participating plan. The Metropolitan pays its dividends at the start—that is to say, it cuts down the premiums. It believes the plain, common-sense men who make up the bulk of policy-holders by plain business contracts we mean those who tell their whole story upon their face; which leave nothing to the imagination, borrow nothing from hope, require definite conditions and make definite promises in dollars and cents.

In both Departments combined the Company has, in each of the past fifteen years, written more paid-for insurance than any other company in the world

The Company Upon Its Total Business Has in the Last Ten Years Reduced Its Ratio of Expenses to Premium Income Fifteen Per Cent.

DARING BURGLAR PUT UNDER ARREST

Dons New Suit of Clothes in House of Victim.

The limit of burglar audacity was reached last evening about 6 o'clock when a daring negro burglar entered the residence of John Roberts, shipping clerk of the Armour Fertilizer Works, residing at the corner of Central railroad and East Point avenue, and donned a complete suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Roberts, helped himself to a suit case full of ladies' silk clothes and took along for protection a rifle. Walter Johnson, a negro 21 years of age, was arrested by the police with the goods in his possession and sent to the station house. Mr. Roberts was notified, and identified all the missing articles.

Entrance to the house was effected through a rear window. Mr. Roberts family were out at the time, and when they returned they found things better skelter. The police were called, and Bicycle Officers Wood and Bentley answered. Police Sergeant Luck and Officers Blackstone and Dunton were also summoned, and hid themselves in the bushes along the railroad. Soon they saw a man coming along with a suit case and a gun. They rushed out and covered him and took him in custody. The identification followed. Officers Wood and Bentley arrived on the scene just after the arrest was effected.

The residence at 148 Bass street, occupied by J. C. Flemister was similarly entered a short time before, and a pistol and some silverware stolen. The thief escaped, although Call Officers Barfield and Wood made every effort to apprehend him. He entered through the dining room window. The occupants of the house were likewise out of the house at the time.

In the late afternoon Call Officers Barfield and Fain were summoned to the residence of Mrs. Sophia Selig, at 83 East Georgia avenue, where the Schooner Bayou Vernon party every thing turned topsy-turvy. A set of door keys were missing, but outside of this it was impossible to tell the extent of the loss. Call Officers Barfield and Fain likewise looked after this affair. The people here were also away from home.

$1,500 REWARD OFFERED FOR GIRL'S ASSAILANT

No Clew to Man Who Slugged Miss Owen, of Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., June 17.—Although the police and city detectives searched diligently today for the assailant of Miss Annie L. Owen, stenographer to the police board, who was slugged while in her office last night, they made but little progress. There was no clew on which to work. At the hospital it was said that Miss Owen would recover, unless complications should arise. She suffered concussion of the brain, and is in a semi-conscious condition part of the time. The rewards aggregating $1,500 have been offered for the apprehension of the criminal.

Dredge Boat Burns.

New Orleans, June 17.—The dredge boat John Anderson, No. 2, engaged in dredging on a government contract, was burned to the water's edge in Schouders Bayou, Vermilion parish yesterday. The crew of eight men escaped. The loss amounts to about $85,000. The cause of the fire is not known.

Short Items of Interest

ON SEPARATE CHARGES OF VIOLATING the traveling blind tiger law, Bass Chosewood, 21 years of age, and Emory McAfee, 30 years of age, were arrested late yesterday afternoon by Detectives Flood and Arthur, and brought to the station house, and the cases were entered against them on the city docket and will probably be tried this afternoon in the police court. The detectives charge Chosewood and McAfee with selling liquor.

LILLIAN RAGLAND, A YOUNG NEGRO woman, residing in the rear of the section near the corner of Decatur and Fort streets, was painfully stabbed in the back with a long knife last night about 9 o'clock. She was taken to the Grady hospital, where it is thought the wound penetrated her lung. She said Son Minter, a friend, cut her, but that he was only playing. He escaped.

INSECT POWDER CAME NEAR causing the death of Ora Ford, a negro woman, residing in the rear of 21 Crew street, or Crew street alley, and her 10-year-old daughter. They were taken to the Grady hospital in a very serious condition. Today they will probably be discharged. The woman decided that it would be best to put a little bug powder on the bed, so she poured on a plenty and got in bed, the daughter following. Both fell asleep, and the insect powder began to work and soon overcame them.

HAYCO, THE HANDCUFF JUGGLER, showing at a local theater, gave free exhibitions at police station last night and the night before, performing several difficult feats in releasing himself from the regular police manacles. Several cuffs he could not escape, notably those belonging to Call Officers Bob Wood and Pat Gallaher, but he was usually on the job. He also did several rope stunts, which were enjoyed by a large audience of policemen.

THE PRESENTATION OF THE AT-

WAVES OF HYSTERIA CAUSE CLOSING OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

New York, June 17.—One of those sudden waves of hysteria which from time to time have swept the crowded tenements of the east side, today temporarily closed three public schools, with an attendance of more than 4,000 pupils, blocked all traffic on Grand street for an hour, and was not calmed until the police reserves were called out.

Beyond the fact that many Jewish parents have of late been receiving threatening letters, demanding $1 from each family on pain of having their children murdered, there is no explanation. First, a gust of wind carried the uneasy tattoo of a fire engine on a gallop to the next up children of a school that houses 2,300 pupils; the engine whistled shrilly, a little girl shrieked in answer, and in a minute the hallways were filled with a mob of fighting boys and girls and panic-stricken mothers from nearby tenements were clawing and kicking at the outside of the street doors. As it by prearrangement, another passing engine chafed the nerves of another set of children in a second school. A rumor spread that the school was on fire. Before the crowds could get to it there was a shout that a third school had been blown up by the Black Hand. Then there was no holding the people. Parents fought with the police for their children, and many were torn and bruised in the scuffle. All traffic came to a stop, and it was long before order was restored.

All the east side schools had to be closed an hour earlier. It was found impossible to get more than half the normal attendance, and those that did return could not study.

FIRE AT KEY WEST.

Son of Fire Chief Fulford Injured by Horses.

Key West, Fla., June 17.—At 4:30 this morning fire destroyed the El Poque restaurant, Charles S. Johnson's drug store, New York Dye works, Victoria restaurant, P. Weinberg jewelry store. The loss amounts to about $60,000. Twenty per cent insurance.

Just after the fire three horses ran away with engine No. 3, without a driver, striking Fire Chief Fulford's buggy, and throwing his son, Arthur, out, cutting his head very badly.

Lightning Strikes Girl.

Charlotte, N. C., June 17.—Lightning from a clear sky struck Miss Salie Underwood, 16 years old, daughter of R. J. Underwood, at River Bend, a remote town in Gaston county, yesterday, falling on her and producing a state of coma from which physicians have been unable to arouse her. At 10 o'clock tonight the girl was still unconscious.

WHERE NEGLECT BECOMES CRIMINAL.

It should not have required twenty-four hours, following the discovery that the sanitary department of Atlanta possessed wholly inadequate facilities for the prompt removal of garbage and other filth accumulations, to set in motion the necessary machinery to immediately supply this deficiency.

The ordinance which required every residence and place of business to be equipped with covered garbage cans, which compels persons keeping horses and cows to provide for removal of stable accumulations and calls for thoroughly sanitary equipment in houses using surface closets, has been of force and effect now almost three weeks.

Scarcely an instance of failure of compliance on the part of any of the 30,000 homes and places of business in the city has been brought to light.

Recognition of the wisdom of the law, the motive of self-preservation, threats of fine and even stockade sentence in recorder's court have proven effective and the people throughout the city have complied with the requirements of the ordinance.

IT IS THE CITY OF ATLANTA WHICH HAS FAILED TO MEET ITS CORRESPONDING OBLIGATION BECAUSE OF LACK OF FACILITIES TO COPE WITH THE SITUATION.

Chief John Jentzen, of the sanitary department, fulfilled his duty when he notified council that the equipment and facilities placed at his disposal were quite insufficient to enable him promptly to remove all garbage and other filth accumulations as the ordinance demands.

Thus is an emergent and weighty responsibility placed directly upon the city council.

MADE AWARE OF THE EXISTENCE OF CONDITIONS LIKELY TO PROVE DANGEROUS AT ANY MOMENT, THAT BODY ADJOURNED
WITHOUT HAVING TAKEN ACTION LOOKING TO IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

After the public had been put on notice for three months as to what would be required of it; after the people of Atlanta had been warned that they might expect fine and even imprisonment in the city stockade for willful violation of the terms of this sanitary ordinance, and after they had spent thousands of dollars in preparation for full compliance with it, calmly and with apparent indifference council permits itself to toy with the public health and tie red tape about it!

Had Henry Jones and William Smith failed to purchase covered garbage cans and put their garbage into it they would by now, perhaps, have found themselves serving stockade sentences.

But what of a city which, under solemn contract to remove that garbage when properly collected and placed, fails to meet its obligation to the citizen?

SHALL THE CITIZEN BE HELD CRIMINALLY ACCOUNTABLE AND
THE OFFICIAL RESPONSIBLE FOR WHAT AMOUNTS TO VIOLATION WHOLLY ESCAPE?

It seems a travesty of justice.

The city council meets again next Monday, precisely three weeks from the date upon which this sanitary ordinance became effective.

If that meeting passes without provision having been made for the prompt removal of all garbage and for compliance on the city's part with other requirements in that ordinance, it matters not at what sacrifice in other directions THERE WILL HAVE ARISEN SUBSTANTIAL GROUNDS FOR THE CHARGE OF CRIMINAL NEGLECT.

No matter what the cost, Atlanta cannot afford and must not let conditions revert to what they were before this sanitary ordinance became operative.

That such will be the effect unless the necessary equipment and facilities are supplied is already too apparent.

If it becomes necessary even to deprive some other department or departments of portions of their appropriations to meet this emergency, it still must be done and must be done promptly.

THERE MUST BE NO TAMPERING WITH THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

If there is a member of council who is unwilling to meet the issue upon this basis, it is his duty to tender his resignation and let the people put somebody there in his place who will give prompt and proper attention to that which most intimately concerns them—protection of their life and health.

The people have paid the price for a sanitary service which they are not getting, a service which should come first and foremost.

ATLANTA MUST MEET THIS OBLIGATION NOW, OR POSE AS THE CHIEF AND MOST FLAGRANT VIOLATOR OF THE LAW WHICH SHE HAS CREATED.

REHABILITATION OF THE SCHOOL FUND.

From all sections of the state comes warm commendation of the plan recently proposed by Governor-elect Joseph M. Brown in his Elberton address for the rehabilitation of the state school fund and consequent prompt payment of the Georgia teachers.

Briefly, that plan is to float a $600,000 bond issue at approximately 2 per cent, the proceeds from which shall be used to create a permanent loan fund, to be borrowed in the spring and summer to pay the teachers' salaries and to be reimbursed in the fall when taxes are collected. The plan contemplates the ultimate retirement of the bonds, leaving the teachers' loan fund a permanent fixture.

Especially does this plan commend itself to the county school commissioners of the state, several of whom have written strongly approving it.
The Constitution recently published cards from Hon. M. L. Duggan, of Hancock, and others, directly to this point. The following from Commissioner Winslow, of Telfair county, is distinctly in line:

Editor Constitution: I fully concur with Governor-elect Joseph M. Brown, as to the proposed bond issue to provide for the payment of the teachers. It is true in almost every case that the teachers are solely dependent upon their salaries for sustenance. Why not, then, let the state borrow the money, as it can get it at a much lower rate of interest? This is the best solution of the matter yet proposed, and possibly the best that can be found.
T. P. WINDSOR,
C. S. C., Telfair County.

The advantage of the plan proposed by the governor-elect is that instead of creating a makeshift, it provides a permanent solution of the problem.

The loan fund itself is there back of the bonds, a cash security, and when, ultimately, the bonds are paid, the state still has the money permanently pledged to meet promptly its obligations to the teachers.

The proposal has met with practically state-wide commendation and it cannot be questioned that with the opportunity given them the people of the state will gladly grant this measure of relief to a most deserving class of faithful and hard-worked public servants.

SENDING EUROPEAN CRIMINALS HOME,

Considering that organized lawlessness in this country is largely recruited from newly-arrived foreigners of the lower classes, the recent revelation that there are now in the prisons of New York state 319 alien felons subject to deportation should suggest at least an amelioration of the criminal conditions that are fast making the richest state in the nation a disgrace to America.

Under the federal statutes, foreigners convicted of felonies within three years after their arrival in this country may be sent back to the land from which they originated.

No attempt is made to explain how this provision has been ignored in the manner demonstrated by the latest prison census in New York. The fact that it has been violated stands out boldly, and with it the allied fact that New York city is now finding it impossible to cope with the Black Hand and other criminal organizations banded for the sole purposes of living by outlawry.

While New York, by reason of its supreme entry facilities, suffers more from the alien criminal problem than any other state in the union, it is fair to assume that investigations in other great cities in America would disclose proportionately large percentages of outlaws of foreign extraction subject to the process of deportation.

National activity in this direction would lessen the burden of the respective states as well as simplify the extermination of banded outlawry throughout the country.

A more rigid supervision of immigration is also indicated since the New York investigation disclosed that a number of the foreign undesirables were not legally entitled to land in America.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

Out of the Ring.

A little towhead at the gate
Stands with an oyster can of bait;
The fish are biting early—late.

Why should I care who saves the state?
Who runs for office tempts his fate;
Happier the towhead with his bait!

No hoodlums for my coming wait—
No bands of brass predominate—
No ancient hungry voters prate.

Only be this my flowery fate:
A pathway to the river straight—
A towhead following with bait!

Not the Right Kind.

"Well," sighed Brother Williams, "when we gits ter glory we'll live on

"De trouble 'bout dat," said Brother Dickey, "is dat milk an' honey never did agree wid me. Bacon an' greens is my favorite dish!"

Too Much for Them.

De fisherman at de river, but his chance is mighty slim;
De fish won't nibble at his bait—won't 'sociate wid him!

De last one know him mighty well—des how he blow on' blow;
Dey des can't stan' de tales he tell an' so, dey let him go!

New Phase of It.

"Yonder goes another specimen of the race prolem," said Brother Dickey.
"Where?"
"Right yonder. Dat man behin' de nigger is de sheriff an' de nigger is leadin' him by one hundred yards!"

The Singers.

Still, still a thousand singers, but how they faint and fall
Since Shelley sang the skylark and Keats the nightingale!

And read us now the reason, nor read that reason wrong;
He only is true singer who sings for love of song.

Consolation.

"Never mind, dear friend," replied

The Voice of Joy.

A little way of sighing
In all the years to be.
But—down the sad soul's crying
And clink a cup with me!

The Promising One.

A poetical contribution to The Fredonia Citizen sings:—
"Oh, promise me that when you get the tin, you'll buy an auto car and we'll spin; we'll wander up and down the boulevard, and when we hit the pike we'll strike it hard; we'll see the wheels go 'round and sulphur roll, as each man we run down relieves his frustration to look over the premises and deep and free. Oh, promise me. Oh, promise me. Oh, promise me that you will hold my hand, as we go scorching through Fradon's land; we'll make the rubber-necks just hold their breath, and dodge us as they would the laws of death. But should the blamed thing break, what would we do? Say, Love, you'd better buy a horse and two; nice 2:15 roadster fine would be. Oh, promise me. Oh, promise me."

A Prayer.

Father of all, see! We Thy children pray
Unto Thee. Lend Thou a listening ear
To our entreaty, and hear Thou our thanks.

Dear Lord, for this we thank Thee:—
That each day we see
The earth below so fair, the sky so blue,
And hear the song of birds, and running brooks, and through the trees
The rushing of the wind, like waves upon the shore.

Sounding Thy glory, That we feel the touch of loved ones,
Giving comfort, Lord, we thank Thee.
And we pray
That Thou wilt help us in our striving;
help us, Lord,
To love rightly, not jealousy, our fellow-men.
Help us to realize, too, that all is good,
and good to all.
Help us to live unselfishly: to give to those about us
Of ourselves, not grudgingly, but lovingly—forgetting self.
And last, dear Lord, help us, who came from Thee,
And bear Thine image, to be worthy to return to Thee.

NO BILL IN PEONAGE CASE.

Minor E. Mitchell Was Under Arrest on Charge.

Albany, Ga., June 14.—(Special.)—
The grand jury in the United State court today returned a no bill in the case of Minor E. Jackson, of Mitchell county, charged with peonage. This is a case that attracted a good deal of attention at the time of the arrest of Jackson, who is a member of one of the most prominent families in this section. He was given a commitment trial shortly after his arrest and bound over under a $5,000 bond.

One of the famous Northrup land cases is now being tried. This contest over title to many thousands of acres of valuable land in Worth county has been the subject of litigation for a number of years. The Columbian Lumber Company is defendant in the case now on trial, the plaintiff being George B. Northrup. The court will probably remain in session through next week.

350 Warships in Action.

London, June 17.—The mobilization nauvers was practically completed this morning and something like 350 warships are now making their way to their respective stations. The maneuvers will be secret, but the general scheme is understood to be a repetition of the plan of last year, which, however, resulted in a fiasco, owing to the British fleet for the annual ma-noeuvers. The forces this year are divided into red, white and blue fleets.

GOSSIP AT THE CAPITOL

The Central of Georgia railroad has amended its return to Comptroller General Wright and places its cash and securities at $375,600. This is an increase for this item of $251,600.
The figures are as follows:

	1902.	1903.
Central of Georgia (realty and franchise) . . .	$18,942,619	$18,910,466
Cash and securi- ties	372,600	91,910
Rolling stock . . .	871,527	871,527
Total	$20,186,746	$19,873,903
The net increase was $213,844.

Governor Grants Pardons.

Governor Smith yesterday granted pardons to two convicts serving long terms.
Jim Richardson, colored, sent up for life from Fulton county in 1891, was pardoned, having served eighteen years. In the application for his pardon was included an affidavit from a man who stated that he had received the confession of the man who actually did the killing for which Richardson was convicted. The confessed guilty man stated that the deceased had come to his house under circumstances that made the owner fear he was a burglar and that he threw open the door and fired on the intruder. He made no statement when Richardson was under trial, but kept silent while the innocent man was convicted and sentenced.
C. W. Humphreys, convicted in Gwinnett county of forgery and sentenced for fifteen years, was also pardoned.
Humphreys is a white man. He was charged with forging two notes, one for $25 and one for $203.

To Export Farm Products.

Governor Smith has a plan for exporting farm products in the hands of the producer, which he will urge upon the attention of the next legislature in his farewell message.

Farm products are now subject to taxation and it will require an amendment to the state constitution to exempt them. The plan is to exempt newly made crops for a term of twelve months.

At the last legislative session an amendment similar to that which the governor will propose was offered in the house by Representatives Murphy Candler and Hooper Alexander, of De-Kalb. It was never reached on the calendar.

Railroad Commission's Report.

The report of the railroad commission of Georgia has just come from the press and will be distributed today.
It covers 408 pages. This, the thirty-sixth annual report, contains many valuable statistics on the operation of railroads in the state, in addition to the routine matters handled by the commission.

To Sell Executive Mansion.

It is announced on good authority that in his farewell message, Governor Hoke Smith will advocate the sale of the present executive mansion, and the purchase of one in the residence section of Atlanta that will be more suitable for a home for the state's executive.

The governor will emphasize the defects of the present location; the fact that it is in what is now the business section of the city, is noisy and unsuited to a home; is more valuable for business property than for a residence, and that the state could save money by selling and buying another piece of property further out. Governor Smith estimates that the present mansion property is worth $205,000. It is a large piece of property than the Leyden house, next door, which recently sold for $100,000.

PARTY OF NEWSPAPER MEN
RECEIVED BY MRS. EDDY

The Christian Science Monitor of Boston gives the following account of the reception of a party of newspaper men at the home of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, arranged for the purpose of refuting a number of rumors which had been given circulation with reference to the well-known Christian Science leader:

"Newspaper men representing all the papers in Boston and several from more distant points gathered at 12:50
p. m. on Monday, June 7, outside the grounds of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy's residence, Chestnut Hill, by special invitation to look over the premises and thoroughly assure themselves regarding her well-being.

The party was conducted to the house by Alfred Farrow, publication committee of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. In the reception room on the ground floor, Adam H.
Dickey, assistant secretary to Mrs.
Eddy, explained the purpose in inviting the reporters and handed out Mrs.
Eddy's signed statement. Numerous questions were asked and answered and the party then moved out on the lawn.

"Mrs. Eddy had just reached her carriage when the journalists arrived at the driveway. In describing Mrs. Eddy leaving for her drive, Fred J. Wilson,
New England manager of the United Press Association, one of the party of newspaper men present, sent the following to the newspapers throughout the world taking the United Press service:

"And when she issued from the house for her customary afternoon drive it was no dejected, mindless woman, but one in whose placid features shone the light of intelligence and purpose. As the carriage drew out from the porte cochere with Mrs.
Eddy's secretary, Calvin A. Frye, and her coachman on the box, the venerable Christian Science leader and her companion, Mrs. Laura Sargent, looked down and smiled and bowed more than her years would warrant and it is doubtful if there are many women of her age in whom the force of life burns more brightly. As her carriage started down the driveway, Mrs. Eddy leaned back in her seat, and with her placid face smiling brightly, was gone.

"The reporters were well satisfied that Mrs. Eddy was in good health.
There was nothing in her appearance that betokened weakness or physical disability, but she looked well and active.

"The reporters were then shown through the house. They were even taken upstairs and allowed to

CITY SUSTAINED A LOSS IN DEATH OF MR. SHARPE

Deceased Was a Resident of Atlanta Ever Since His Early Boyhood.

The death of William Henry Sharpe, which occurred at his residence, 263 Rawson street, on Tuesday night at 12:30 o'clock, leaves a vacancy in the galaxy of Atlanta's best citizens. Mr. Sharpe was born at Culloden, Ga., on January 27, 1853, and, coming to Atlanta in his early boyhood, became thoroughly identified with the city's interests. As a lad, he attended Trinity Sunday school, hand in hand with his father, W. H. Sharpe, Sr., who never grew weary of "good works," and whose example was reflected in the son, just passed away.

The deceased was for twenty-seven years general manager in the southern states for the Wheeler & Wilson Machine Company. When that company was merged into the Singer, he became identified with the Standard Company, and resigned a short time ago on account of failing health. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bessie Sharpe; one daughter and one son—Miss Annie and Henry Sharpe; also, one sister, Mrs. R. D. Chaney, of Chattanooga. The funeral services were held at the residence at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and the interment was in West View cemetery.

FOSTER GETS MONEY WHICH HE ADVANCED

Alderman Curtis Took No Further Steps to Hold Up Appropriation.

That $150 which Councilman Frank Foster advanced for two city officials to attend the conference of "Cruties and correction at Buffalo" has been paid. Alderman Lee Curtis, who contemplated having the money held up because he believed the appropriation was illegal, took no further steps in the matter, and Councilman Foster now has his money in his pocket.

The common council and the aldermanic board voted the money to pay the expenses of Probation Officer James M. Gloor and City Warden Thomas Evans to Buffalo, and Alderman Curtis held the resolution up by notice of a motion to reconsider. While the matter was pending, Councilman Foster advanced the $150 out of his own pocket. He has got it back now, and feels better.

HELD CLASS REUNIONS.

Members of '78, '79, '80 Present at Commencement.

Athens, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—One of the most interesting class reunions during commencement week was that of the class of 1881. A number of members of the classes of 1878, 1879, 1880 and 1882 also met with this class. A most delightful banquet was enjoyed by the class at the Georgian Tuesday night. Judge Marcus W. Beck presided as toastmaster. Responses were made by all present. Those present were Messrs. J. G. Camp, H. C. Tuck, C. E. Brand, Billups Philmy, M. W. Beck, G. H. Dixon, Clark Howell, D. W. Meadows, Hooper Alexander, L. M. Brand, H. H. Chandler, J. H. Skelton, J. D. Price, R. D. Callaway, A. J. Cobb, Howard Thompson, T. S. Moll, J. T. Anderson, C. J. Hood, E. H. Dorsey, R. T. DuBose, J. M. Mayne.

MAJ. KIMBROUGH LEAVES.

Commandant at University for Several Years.

Athens, Ga., June 17.—(Special.)—Major J. M. Kimbrough, commandant of the university cadets for the past several years, will leave that position next October under the rules of the war department that requires a certain amount of service with his regiment. He will report to the Twenty-seventh Infantry as first lieutenant next October.

The trustees, faculty and students, and citizens as well, will give up Major Kimbrough with deep regret. His work here has been of the highest order of merit. He has brought the military department of the university up to the highest degree of efficiency, and with it all has impressed himself upon students and community even as firmly as a cultured gentleman and true friend.

The trustees, at their session this week, passed a resolution of appreciation for his valuable services.

Lonely, He Killed Himself.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 17.—Unable to locate his relatives, Bende Furnis, 35 years old, who arrived here from Austria Tuesday, committed suicide today by cutting his throat.

SOUTHERN SPEAKERS

AT WINONA ASSEMBLY

Several Georgians on Program for the Conference August 1-7.

At Winona Lake, Ind., is situated one of the greatest summer assembly grounds in America. Over a million dollars have been spent in equipping it, and over one hundred thousand people attend the various programs during the summer.

There are three distinct features of this great assembly—a Chautauque program, a Civic Conference, and a Bible Conference.

The Civic Conference will take place this year August 1-7, and will be the largest ever held in America. The following southern men are on the program: Dr. Len G. Broughton, Atlanta, Ga.; Hon. Seaborn Wright, Rome, Ga.; ex-Governor Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina; Dr. George R. Stuart, Cleveland, Tenn.; Bishop William F. Anderson, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Dr. Lincoln McConnell, San Antonio, Texas; Dr. D. D. Sullins, Cleveland, Tenn.; Hon. James A. Tate, Shelbyville, Tenn.; Robert E. Clay, the colored orator of Bristol, Va., and an equal number of prominent men from the north and northwest.

Dr. George R. Stuart, of Tennessee, one of the leading spirits in the great temperance reform movement in America, is chairman and director of the program for the Civic Conference at the assembly. He is a man of national reputation, having been associated with the lamented Sam Jones for sixteen years.

L. & N. Dividends.

New York, June 17.—The directors of the Louisville and Nashville railroad today declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the stock of the company. The two preceding semi-annual dividends had been at the rate of 3½ per cent.

NEARLY $100,000 FOR REAL ESTATE

Some Big Sales Yesterday Showing Value of Atlanta Property.

Nearly $100,000 in big sales was the record of the well-known real estate firm of S. B. Turman & Co., with offices at the corner of South Broad and Alabama streets, yesterday.

Of this amount, $54,284.50 was the total on the sale of Nos. 62, 65 and 67 Alabama street, commonly referred to as the Foote & Davies property.

Fifteen thousand dollars was the sale of the Cassells property, in Kirkwood, fronting the Georgia railroad, and $12,500 was for the lot on Auburn avenue, sold to John M. Smith Company.

The Alabama street property, sold at auction by Steve R. Johnson, brought out a number of buyers who are deeply interested in central real estate.

The top price paid was $975 a front foot. This was paid by J. Carroll Payne for No. 67 Alabama street, which has a frontage of 25x125, with three stories and a basement, making a total of $23,400.

Seven hundred and eighty dollars a front foot was paid by Captain George M. Hope and others for No. 65 Alabama street, which has a frontage of 26.9x126½, and has three stories and a basement, which totaled $20,202.

No. 62 Alabama street was bought by Dr. Frank Edmondson and others for $550 a front foot, and which has a frontage of 24.45x126.75, a total of $20,782.50.

The R. C. Cassells place, near the Sisson property, with a frontage on Georgia railroad, containing 15 acres, brought $15,000 and was bought by S. B. Turman & Co., agent.

The Dickinson Trust Company property, sold to John M. Smith Company, has a frontage 86x275 on Auburn avenue, near Courtland street, and brought $12,500. It is understood the John M. Smith Company will enlarge its plant, which adjoins this lot.

COL. LOWRY LEAVES FOR EXTENDED TOUR

Mrs. Lowry Accompanies Him.

Guest of Honor at Tri-State Convention.

Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry left yesterday afternoon for an extended tour to the west, to follow his address, as guest of honor, at the Tri-State convention, which is to be held at Seattle, Wash., June 24-26.

As president of the Lowry National Bank of Atlanta, and former president of the American Bankers' Association, Colonel Lowry is greatly sought after each year as a speaker. The fact that he will cross the continent to deliver the address, this year, is evidence of his popularity.

With Mrs. Lowry he will visit the Yukon-Pacific exposition, and make an extended tour of the west before returning.

In speaking of his coming visit there, the Pacific Banker, the official financial journal of the Pacific coast says:

"Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, the three conventions will convene in the auditorium of the Moore theater, and will be addressed by Colonel J. E. Farnsworth, of the American Bankers' Association, whose subject will be 'The Work of the American Bankers' Association,' and by Robert J. Lowry, president of the Lowry National Bank of Atlanta, Ga., ex-president of the American Bankers' Association, whose subject will be 'Our Country From the Bankers' Viewpoint.'"

Colonel Lowry is a well-known among the bankers of the Pacific Northwest, as he has been for many years. He is a representative of the highest type of the banker, a man of deep erudition and a man who combines in himself every element that is necessary to make a typical southern gentleman: of dignified port and bearing he is a marked figure in any assembly, withal, of such genial personality that it can be truly said of him, 'None know him but to praise.'

Indian Murderer Escaped.

Palm Springs, Tex., June 17.—Will Hendrix, a half-breed Choctaw Indian, under a life sentence, handed down by the federal court, for the murder of his father-in-law, at Run-in, Okla. broke jail here today, escaping on a stolen horse. A mounted posse is in pursuit. Hendrix escaped through a back door in a window, letting himself to the ground by a rope made from blankets. He obtained the keys and liberated all of the prisoners who got as far as the "run around," but they were unable to crawl through the hole in the window.

Held on Murder Charge.

Amite City, La., June 17.—Charging them with the murder of her husband, ten years ago, Mrs. Simon Oliphant late yesterday swore out warrants against Thomas Dunnington and E. J. Joiner, prominent residents of this parish. The men surrendered to the sheriff immediately. Joiner and Dunnington were arrested on the charge of Oliphant's murder a few days after it occurred, but were discharged at a preliminary hearing. No true bill was ever returned against them by the grand jury.

Germany and Venezuela.

Berlin, June 17.—An agreement of amity, commerce and navigation between Venezuela and Germany was today assented to by the federal council.

Political Problems Are Discussed by Roosevelt.

Former President Says Government Must Be Wreathed From Rich Men Who Are Using It for Selfish Purposes—Rule of Mob Is Denounced.

New York, June 17.—Discussion of the political problems confronting the country, through the development of power by large corporations is made in vigorous language by ex-President Roosevelt in his article in this week's Outlook.

Taking for his subject "The Thrill of Names," Mr. Roosevelt says it behooves our people never to be misled by designing people who appeal to the reverence for, or antipathy toward a given name in order to achieve some alien purpose. "The rule of a mob," he declares, may be as tyrannical and oppressive as the rule of a single individual, and the rule of oligarchy, whether this oligarchy is a plutocracy or a bureaucracy, may be as tyrannical and oppressive as that of a mob; but the mob leaders usually state that all that they are doing is necessary in order to advance the cause of "liberty," while the dictator and oligarchy are usually defended upon the ground that the course they follow is absolutely necessary so as to secure "order."

Taken in by Word "Liberty." "Many excellent people are taken in by the use of the word 'liberty' at the one time," says the ex-president, "and the use of the word 'order' at the other and ignore the simple fact that despotism is despotism, whether it is tyranny, oppression, or oppression, whether committed by one individual or by many individuals, by a state or by a private corporation. All forms of tyranny and cruelty must alike be condemned by honest men."

"We in this country have been very fortunate. Thanks to the teaching and practice of the men whom we must revere as leaders, of the men like Washington and Lincoln, we have hitherto escaped the twin guils of despotism and mob rule, and we have never been in any danger from the worst forms of religious bitterness. But we should, therefore, be all the more careful, as we deal with our industrial and social problems, not to fall into mistakes similar to those which have brought lasting disaster on less fortunately situated peoples."

"First and foremost, we must stand firmly on a basis of good, sound ethics. We intend to do, for the right, for the ample and sufficient reason that it is right. If business is hurt by the stern exposure of crookedness and the result of efforts to punish the crooked men, then business men must be hurt, even though good men are injured in the hurrying, until it so adjusts itself that it is possible to prosecute wrongdoing without stampeding the business community into a terror-stricken defense of the wrongdoers and an angry assault upon the reformers who have exposed them. On the other hand, we must be aware, above all things, of being misled by wicked or foolish men who would condone homicide and violence, and apologize for the dynamiter and the assassin, because, forsooth, they choose to take the ground that crime is no crime, if the wicked man happens also to have been a shiftless and unthrifty or lazy man who has never amassed property."

Wrest Government from Rich Men. "It is essential that we should wrest the control of the government from the hands of rich men who use it for unhealthy purposes, and should keep it out of their hands; and to this end the first requisite is to provide means adequately to deal with corporations which are essential to modern business, but which, under the decisions of the courts and because of the shortsightedness of the public, have become the chief factors in political and business debasement. But it would be just as reasonable to let the control of the government into the hands of demagogues and visionaries who seek to pander to ignorance and prejudice by penalizing thrift and business enterprise, and running all men of means, with as an attendant result, the ruin of the entire community."

Mr. Roosevelt quotes an article by Stevens, an English journalist, on conditions in the United States, written in 1887, in which it was declared that if individualism is left absolutely uncontrolled as a modern business condition, it will follow that all power of individual achievement and individual effort in the average man will be crushed out just as effectively as if the state took absolute control of everything. On this line Mr. Roosevelt continues as follows:

"Those who advocate total lack of regulation, those who advocate law-

PRESSED HARD

Coffee's Weight on Old Age. When prominent men realize the injurious effects of coffee and the change in health that Postum can bring, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

A superintendent of public schools in one of the southern states says: "My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee drinker, had been troubled with her heart for a number of years and complained of that weak all over feeling and sick stomach. "Some time ago I was making an official visit to a distant part of the country and took dinner with one of the country gentlemen. He noticed a somewhat peculiar flavor of the coffee, and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum. "I was so pleased with it that after the meal was over, I bought a package to carry home with me, and had wife prepare some of the next meal. The whole family were so well pleased with it, that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely. "I had really been at times very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to its use, and had little trouble with her heart and no sick stomach, that the headache was not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us."

"I know Postum has benefited myself and the other members of the family, but not in so marked a degree as in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

lessness in the business world, themselves give strongest impulse to what I believe would be the deadening movement toward state socialism.

"There must be law to control the big man, and, therefore, especially the big corporations in the industrial world, in the interest of our industrial democracy of today. This law must be efficient, and therefore it must be administered by executive officers and not by law suits in the courts. If this is not done, the agitation to increase out of all measure the share of the government in this work will receive enormous impetus. The movement for government control of the great business corporations is no more a movement against liberty than a movement to put a stop to violence is a movement against liberty. The huge irresponsible corporations which demand liberty from the supervision of government agents stands on the same ground as the less dangerous criminal of the streets who wishes liberty from police interference."

As to Newspapers.

The article closes with a direct reference to newspapers. "Yet another thing," he says, "no movement ever has gone or ever will do good in this country where assault is made not upon evil wherever found, but simply upon evil as it happens to be found in a particular class. The big newspaper, owned or controlled in Wall street, which is everlastingly preaching about the iniquity of laboring men, which is quite willing to hound politicians for their misdeeds, but which, with raving fury, defends all the malefactors of great wealth, stands on an exact level with, and neither above nor below, that other newspaper whose whole attack is upon men of wealth, which declines to condemn, or else condemns in a perfunctory manner, and wholly inefficient manner, outrages committed by labor. This latter is the kind of paper which, by torrents of foul abuse, seeks to stir up a bitter class hatred against every man of means simply because he is a man of means, against every man of wealth, whether he is an honest man, who by industry and ability, has honorably won his wealth, and who honorably spends it, or a man whose wealth represents robbery and whose life represents either profligacy, or, at best, an insane, useless and tasteless extravagance. This country cannot afford to let its conscience grow warped and twisted, as it must grow if it takes either one of these two positions. We must draw the line, not on wealth nor on poverty, but on conduct. We must stand for the good citizen, because he is a good citizen, whether he be rich or whether he be poor, and we must mercilessly attack the man who does evil, wholly without regard to whether the evil is done in high or low places, whether it takes the form of homicidal violence among members of a federation of miners, or of unscrupulous craft and greed in the head of some great Wall street corporation."

Steaming to Beat Tea Tax.

San Francisco, June 17.—Rushing across the Pacific loaded with over a thousand tons of tea, the steamer Asia is seeking to land her cargo at this port before the additional tax which importers fear will be fixed on this commodity by the present congress goes into effect. In order that no time may be lost in the race with the passage of the Payne bill, the steamer has been scheduled to come direct, omitting the Honolulu stop and thereby saving two days.

THAW IS FIGHTING TO GAIN FREEDOM

But Hearing Is Delayed Until 6th of July.

Thaw's Mother Collapses in Court When the Judge Postpones Case—It Is Declared Thaw Is Being Hounded.

White Plains, N. Y., June 17.—Harry K. Thaw will have to wait in the Matteawan asylum until July 6 for a hearing to determine whether he is sane and in a condition to be released from the asylum. The case came up before Justice Mills here today on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Thaw's counsel, Charles Morchauer, who wanted to go on with the hearing, but Mr. Clark, a representative of the attorney general, wanted to have the case transferred to New York county, and District Attorney Jerome, of New York, asked that the hearing be postponed in order to give him an opportunity to attend to other business.

Justice Mills decided that the hearing would be held in White Plains. Mr. Morchauer asked that Thaw be kept in the jail of either Westchester or Dutchess county, until the hearing, but the justice declined to grant this. Justice Mills, however, ordered Dr. Baker, of the asylum, to permit Thaw to stay up until 9 o'clock at night on the representation of Thaw's counsel that he was compelled to go to bed at 8 p. m., and that this was too early. Mr. Morchauer declared that District Attorney Jerome was unnecessarily hounding Thaw, and that the asylum authorities were unnecessarily antagonistic. He said that all Thaw's papers were taken from him, and that his counsel was not permitted to consult with him alone, but only in the presence of other inmates. Thaw's mother, Mrs. William Thaw, his sister, formerly the countess of Yarmouth, and his two brothers, were in the courtroom. When the justice announced his decision to delay the hearing, Harry's mother collapsed. She swoon as though seized with a chill, and her daughter called out for a drink of water, saying that her mother was choking. The water revived Mrs. Thaw somewhat, but she was unable to walk without help, and Harry Thaw assisted her to retire to an ante-room and remained there with her for a short time.

La Follette Filled Many Pages.

Washington, June 17.—The speech which Senator La Follette delivered in the senate on the tariff in course of the three days of June 2, 3 and 4, is printed in the Congressional Record. It covers 127 pages of the Record. This is not the longest speech ever delivered in the senate, John A. Logan's effort in the Fitz John Porter case having exceeded it in length, but there has been no address in the upper house in recent years that approached it in amount of printed space filled.

GEORGIA STRIKE CAUSES DEADLOCK

Hardwick and Herbert Seem Unable to Agree.

Unless They Choose Third Arbitrator by Midnight, Matter Will Have to Be Referred to Knapp and to Neil.

Washington, June 7.—With only one more day in which to reach an agreement regarding the selection of a third arbitrator in the controversy between the Georgia Railroad Company and its firemen, Messrs. Hilary A. Herbert and Representative Hardwick, of Georgia, the other arbitrators, are no nearer a decision in the matter than when the conference began four days ago.

Another conference was held today, but it was announced that no agreement had been reached. The arbitrators now have until midnight tomorrow in which to decide upon a third arbitrator. If, at the expiration of that time, no one is chosen, the matter, under the Erdman act, will have to be referred to the board of mediation, consisting of Chairman Knapp, of the interstate commerce commission, and Commissioner of Labor Neil.

SOME OF THE BOOKS CHOSEN BY DR. ELIOT For Five-Foot Shelf to Contain the Best Works of Eng- lish Literature.

Boston, June 17.—Dr. Charles W. Eliot, former president of Harvard university, has made public a partial list of the "5-foot-shelf" library which is to contain the best works of English literature, especially adapted for the person seeking a general education.

The works announced by Dr. Eliot, in addition to the fifteen formerly named, are as follows:
Johnson's "Volpone," Beaumont & Fletcher's "The Maid's Tragedy," Webster's "Duchess of Malfi," Middleton's "The Changeling," Dryden's "All for Love," Shelley's "Cenci," Browning's "Blot on the Scutcheon," Tennyson's "Becket," Goethe's "Faust," Marlow's "Dr. Faustus," Adam Smith's "Wealth of Nations," "Letters of Cicero and Pliny," Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," Burns' "Tam O'Shanter," Walton's "Complete Angler," "Lives of Donne and Herbert," "Autobiography of St. Augustine," "Plutarch's Lives," Dryden's "Aeneid," Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," Thomas A. GLOBE-AND-TOWER ACT AMAZES AND THRILLS

It Will Be Witnessed at White City Park, Beginning June 20.

Atlantans are to have the privilege of witnessing free the most sensational aerial act now in America, and one which has extensive bookings for the fall season in Europe. This act is known as the "globe and tower act of Phil D. Greene." Mr. Greene does many amazing and thrilling stunts on a large globe, which he manipulates up and down a fifty-foot spiral tower and on the cross-arms, of which he does dizzy balancing feats.

This grand free attraction will be put on at White City park for a two-weeks' engagement, beginning June 20. There will be two performances each day, one at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and the other at 8:30 in the evening.

"I HAVE KILLED MY WIFE; GOD HELP ME," HE CRIED

Westervelt Claims That Tragedy Was Result of Accident.

New York, June 17.—"I have just killed my wife; God help me," was the cry with which William Westervelt, a prosperous Mason and builder of Teaneck, near Hackensack, N. J., rushed into the home of a neighbor today. Mrs. Westervelt was found dead at the foot of the bed, with a gunshot wound in her neck. Westervelt, who was arrested, declared he was showing his wife how to handle a double-barrelled shotgun when the weapon was accidentally discharged.

SLAYER OF ACTRESS WILL BE PARDONED

Gentry, Who Killed Madge York, Will Receive Clemency.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 17.—The state board of pardons late today recommended a pardon for James B. Gentry, the actor, serving a life sentence for the murder of Madge York, the actress.

The murder of Madge York, for which James B. Gentry was sentenced to be hanged and finally sent to prison for life, was committed on the afternoon of February 17, 1895, in Philadelphia, where Madge York was playing with the "Baggage Check" Company. Gentry, who was filling an engagement in Boston, had, his friends alleged, been seriously ill with the grippe, and was drinking heavily. He had an engagement to meet Miss York in New York early in February, but through a misunderstanding, he missed her at the railroad station.

He met some friends in New York, and they jokingly told him that Miss York was receiving the attentions of another actor. From that time all trace of Gentry was lost until he rushed into the room occupied by Miss York, at a Walnut street hotel, in Philadelphia, and shot and killed the actress. In his hurry to escape from the hotel, Gentry fell from the fire escape, fracturing two of his ribs. He was sentenced to be hanged on April 22, 1897, but on the day preceding the date on which the sentence was to be carried out, the board of pardons recommended that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

Gentry has always maintained that he has no recollection of the murder of Miss York; that his mind was a blank until he found himself in a hospital in Philadelphia.

Must Face New Charge.

Montgomery, Ala., June 17.—Five men charged with highway robbery in connection with the alleged theft of a grip containing liquor, which was stolen by a mob that attacked the Law and Order League activities here on June 7, were brought into court today, and the charges dismissed. New charges of assault and battery were made, and the hearing set for June 24.

KNEELING IN PRAYER, STORM STRIKES THEM

McCormick Is Killed and Five of His Children Are Injured.

Joplin, Mo., June 17.—Reports from Percy, Monett and Seligman are that the violent storm in that section of the state last night, spent most of its force five miles southwest of Monett, where the home of Andrew McCormick was demolished and McCormick killed. No other deaths are reported. When the storm began the family was gathered in prayer. The roof was blown off, and McCormick was blown 125 yards distant and into a pond, where his body was found later. Five McCormick children were injured.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION RESULTS IN DEATH

"I Was Trying to Cook Supper for You, Papa," Said Little Boy.

Waco, Tex., June 17.—"I was trying to cook supper for you, papa," was the explanation given by seven-year-old Allan Pierce, of South Bosque, as he lay dying from an explosion of gasoline. His two-year-old sister, Frances Pierce, was instantly killed by the explosion.

Pierce is a farmer living ten miles west of this city. His wife died several months ago, and he has since been doing the house work, assisted by the children. He was at work when the accident happened, the children being left alone.

Fritz Opposing.

Besides Pitching Steady Ball, Bartley Won His Own Game With a Hit in the Sixth Inning—Bayless Ran Bases Well.

Memphis, Tenn., June 17.—(Special.) Discarded members of this season's New Orleans team were pitted today, Bill Bartley pitching Atlanta to victory over Charley Fritz, the recent Pelican addition to the Turtle flock here.

It was Bartley's big bat that furnished the blow that really clinched the contest in the sixth inning, after the former Pelicans had duelled through five rounds of slab work. Bartley walloped down the left alley and two runs scored. Others were added by general display of pushing and shoving, rather than by hammering hits, and the game wound up 4 to 0, with little doubt of the outcome after blue-eyed Bill settled to his stride during the middle rounds.

Some heavy clouds were wasted by the Turtles at the start. Babb and Cranston drew singles their first time up. They were hard drives straight to the fielders, and Bartley seemed in for a trimming, but he settled, and retired the side with a grounded out. Wheeler to Rohn and a similar smack from Daubert to Newton, who threw the batter out. There were eight Turtles that reached first in the first five innings on Bartley, but he kept his bat free from dents.

Wagner might have scored in the second inning after reaching third base as a result of a pass, Shields' sacrifice and O'Leary's single, but he lost the play when O'Leary invited a throw from McMurray, who had made a run to the stand catching Fritz's ball, and Jordan nabbed him with a quick throw to Walker as he retreated back to third. There was nothing resembling hits off Bartley after Daubert beat out a grounder to Newton in the sixth.

A pass to Rohn, Jordan's single, followed by Walker's scorching shot to center and Bartley's scorching shot to the left line, brought Rohn and Jordan in, Walker being caught trying to tally, too. Bayless and Jordan followed with runs in the later innings, both being passed and advanced by bunts or sacrifice flies.

Moran contributed the feature with a long run for Wagner's fly in the sixth inning, shutting off a triple with Daubert on base.
